SPANISH THRONE TREMBLES BEFORE SPIRIT OF REVOLT

Troops and Mobs Fight in Streets Of Various Cities in Empire.

Socialists, Anarchists and Unionites Join in Revolution—General Railroad Strike Ordered for Today and All Spain Awaits Anxiously Result of Attack on Monarchy—Martial Law Proclaimed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADRID, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All Spain is tonight shaking in apprehension of a revolution against the monarchy which is expected to break tomorrow, and which threatens the fall of the Spanish throne. Riots have been going on all day and tonight at Bilbao, where troops attacked the mobs and wounded twenty-six persons, and from other cities come similar reports of clashes between troops and citizens.

Premier Canalejas claims to have evidence of a republican plot at Valencia, and the King, as a result, has placed the whole nation under martial law. It is admitted that Spain faces the gravest crisis in her history. The overthrow of the Spanish monarchy has insured against at least a general strike, when the high rate of twenty-five guineas (approximately 125 per cent.) was being paid for policies.

Embrued in a revolutionary uprising, the nation is in addition threatened by national union-labor strife during which the rebellious spirits cannot fail to incite labor mobs to riot and bloodshed, it is feared.

FIRE ON CROWD.
It was during such an outburst as those that are now expected to become general that troops this afternoon fired on a crowd that was endeavoring to free prisoners, including strike leaders, who were being taken through the streets of the Paris previous to that, when he is said to have gone through experiences almost too terrible to recount.

Well known Republican Parliamentary leaders stand aside from the present movement which is socialistic and destructive in character.

The general union of labor today decided to call a general strike of all industries throughout the country on a date to be fixed later.

A general strike on all the railroads in Spain, to take effect tomorrow, was called today. This is believed to be the precursor of civil war. The government is planning to maintain trains with armed soldiers. The most serious situation is at Valencia, where a general strike was declared yesterday. The city was placed under martial law as fast as strikes were declared; although there was more or less rioting throughout the day, the authorities had the situation well in hand until after dark, when the disturbances vented their anger by attacks upon officials in their adjacent township of Cullera.

PLOT TO KILL WEYLER.
The rioters murdered a judge and threatened other officers of the court who had been engaged in trials of rioters who had been arrested earlier in the day. The mob was dispersed by guards from the customhouse.

In the discovery of the plot at Valencia, as Canalejas claims, it was learned that it was part of this plot to assassinate Gen. Weyler, Captain General of Catalonia. The government says it knows the names of all the conspirators and the source of their supplies.

In view of the general disturbed condition of affairs throughout the country the absence of a part of the army is causing the government anxiety. There are only 70,000 troops available which is barely enough to defend two or three of the cities where martial law has been declared.

Prime Minister Canalejas had an audience with King Alfonso today after which he informed the newspapers that the government was in possession of the details of the revolutionary plot at Barcelona and Valencia.

Three anarchists were arrested at Bilbao. The police seized their homes, as well as that of Senor Zapata, the Liberal, who is the main spring of the present agitation.

PREVIOUS REVOLUTION.
The last previous time martial law was declared in Spain was in the summer of 1909 when the efforts of the government to put down the revolutionary outbreak culminated in the execution of Prof. Ferrer, a distinguished educator of anti-monarchical principles.

The trouble, which began at Barcelona, was caused by popular opposition to the Spanish campaign against the Rif in Morocco. The calling out of reserves for the reinforcement of the army was a signal for a general strike and the beginning of mob violence. Barcelona was for a time at the mercy of a mob which burned churches and monastic institutions. Much blood was shed before the disturbances were suppressed. This was late in July.

Early in August an attempt to create a general strike in Madrid failed; Ferrer was arrested, charged with being the prime mover in the revolutionary activity at Barcelona, tried by court-martial and shot, October 12.

The government stamped out the rebellion but the unpopularity of the Rif campaign, the storm caused by the execution of Prof. Ferrer and criticism of the action of the government in sustaining the suspension of the constitutional guarantees at Barcelona and Gerona for some time after the necessity for this course appeared to have passed, led to the resignation of the Maura Cabinet. It was succeeded on October 22 by the Moret ministry.

RIOTING IN SPAIN SERIOUSLY INTENSIFIED.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
GIBRALTAR, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Though some of the telegraph wires to the cities of Spain have been cut, enough information has been received here to show that the rioting yesterday was of the most serious character. The chief disturbances occurred in Valencia, Cullera, Zaragoza, Coruna and Malaga. Many are reported to have been killed in the street fighting, including several officials.

It is asserted here that the movement is republican in character and that other cities and towns are expected to follow.

Whist and Dinner Dance Given at Residence of Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, Which the Orders Specially Decorated for Affairs, Will Be Annual Event Now.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEWPORT, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a mark of affection and a reward for faithful work of her servants during the past season, Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt gave a whist and dinner dance at her home, which was decorated for the occasion.

The servants had permission to invite their friends, and a merry party assembled at the cottage and a royal good time was enjoyed by butlers, serving maids, coachmen and footmen.

There was dancing to the strains of a large orchestra. At midnight a supper was served. The more elderly of the servants and their guests enjoyed whist in adjoining rooms.

Mrs. Vanderbilt herself was unable to be present being detained in Tuxedo, where she went a short time ago with Mr. and Mrs. Amos Tuck French.

Mrs. Vanderbilt will make this an annual affair.

HEBREW PRIVATE WINS IN SHOULDER STRAPS FIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Private Frank B. Bloom, Battery F, Third Field Artillery, will become a second lieutenant in the United States Army.

It has taken two examinations, the influence of prominent Hebrews throughout the country and the reputation of a colonel in the army by the President to bring the commission home to Bloom.

Bloom is a young Jew, son of the post tailor at Fort Myer. About a year ago he took an examination for a commission. When his papers came up for final disposition Col. Garrard of the Fifteenth Cavalry made the recommendation that because Private Bloom was a Hebrew and the son of a post tailor it was best for the service that he "did fall" to pass his examination.

The young man's mother got hold of the endorsement and the matter was laid before President Taft. The President immediately reprimanded Col. Garrard and ordered that the young man again be given an opportunity to take an examination for a commission. Word reached the War Department today that he had passed the examination and was eligible for promotion to a Lieutenant.

HUNNEWELL AGAIN FEATURES.
Alleged "Commercial Club" Good Governor to "Protect Good Name of Town"—Investigation on.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
TOPEKA (Kan.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A few days ago the Hunnewell "Commercial Club" sent a long telegram to Gov. Stubbs, urging that go more advertising be given Hunnewell on account of the Mayor, Mrs. Ella Wilson, who was asserting that Hunnewell was the home of bootleggers and thieves.

As soon as it became known that this telegram had been sent out Mayor Wilson sent out a message. The Governor decided on an investigation and demanded the names of the officers of the alleged Commercial Club. He received a telegram today that F. B. May was president and W. L. Lewis secretary, and that the club was doing business.

The Governor is going to dig a little deeper before he acts and intends to find out just who the members of the club are and whether they are simply fighting the woman Mayor or trying to help the town.

MAN-TIGER SLAYS FOLLOWS

Folsom Cell Scene of Tragedy.

Jake Oppenheimer, Doomed to Hangman's Noose, Admits Scalp to Belt.

Stabs Fellow-Prisoner With Home-Made Weapon Which Dared to Fight.

Murderer Calmly Hands Off Weapon to Turnkey, Says He's Satisfied.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FOLSOM (Cal.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The man-tiger of the Folsom penitentiaries, in the rider of the cells for the condemned in Folsom prison, at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, stabbed to death his client enemy, Francisco Quijada. Both men were murderers and der sentence of death. Quijada frequently said he would die if Oppenheimer preceded him to the gallows. His enemy had as often cleared his readiness for death in event that he could kill just one man.

Assistant Turnkey Frank P. Estudillo, accompanied by a "trustee" this afternoon, according to the custom, opened the cell doors of four men in the condemned corridor for purposes of ventilation. Immediately upon his door being opened Quijada sprang to the center of the corridor and shouted a challenge to Oppenheimer.

"Come out and fight, Jake," Oppenheimer replied to the challenge. Before Quijada could make a hand in defense, the point of a sharpened bit of iron, six inches in length, had pierced his breast just below the heart.

Estudillo separated the men and placed Quijada in his cell. Turning to Oppenheimer, the trustee said:

"Give me that, Jake."

"All right, sir," said Oppenheimer and calmly surrendered the deadly weapon, which in some unknown manner he had managed to fashion from a short iron bar, with a wrapping of pickings for a handle.

When Oppenheimer had been locked up, Estudillo turned to Quijada.

"HURT? DIES?"

"Are you hurt?" asked the turnkey of the prisoner.

"A little bit," was Quijada's reply. Estudillo then sent for the physician. Before the doctor arrived Quijada was dead.

Oppenheimer and Quijada have been living for several years in the shadow of the gallows, while the constitutionality of a California statute under which they were sentenced, has been pending in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Quijada, whose chief strain of blood is that of the Yaqui Indian tribe of Mexico, was first sentenced to life in Folsom for murder in Los Angeles.

UNDER DEATH SENTENCE.
He figured in the attempted break at Folsom December 29, 1904, being seriously wounded by Capt. Murphy. One bullet entered his arm, amputation being necessary. In this rupture Convicts H. C. Hill, J. C. Quintana and W. Morales were killed by the guard.

Quijada was brought up for trial before Superior Judge (now Appellate Justice) E. C. Hart, December 19, 1905. Quijada's defense attempted to prove that he had no part in the conspiracy of the attempted break, but that, seeing an opportunity for freedom, he took a chance. Under the law passed by the California Legislature of 1905 an attack upon a prison guard was made a capital offense.

EXECUTIONS PENDING.
The defense tried to prove he made no assault. On December 14, 1909, the jury in the case found him guilty of attacking Capt. Murphy and Charles Jolly in the attempted break. He was sentenced to hang by Judge Hart on December 21, 1905.

The executions of both Quijada and Oppenheimer were pending until the decision of the United States Supreme Court on the question of the validity of the California law, making the attack upon a fellow-prisoner or guard a capital offense.

CORONER'S INQUEST.
The coroner's inquest, which was convened in the office of Warden Reilly tonight, failed to throw much light on the motive that led Oppenheimer to slay Quijada. F. P. Estudillo, assistant turnkey, testified that the Mexican leaped from his cell immediately after the door had opened for the purpose of ventilation. Oppenheimer answered the challenge for the fight, which was hurried by his old enemy, and with the assist of a tiger, threw himself upon his fellow convict, weapon in hand. With lightning rapidity he plunged the six inches of steel into the body of his victim. Before the men could be separated, Quijada was bleeding from half a dozen wounds. Estudillo grabbed the wounded Mexican and threw him into his cell and closed the door. He then turned his attention to Oppenheimer, who stood calmly still holding the dripping dagger.

OFFENHEIMER TESTIFIES.
Estudillo testified that Oppenheimer

SHIPS COLLIDE IN HEAVY FOG.

Freighter Virginian Crashes Into Passenger Steamer.

Panic But Little Damage in Accident Off Point Sur.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ploughing through the fog at a ten-knot clip, the mammoth freighter Virginian crashed into a big passenger steamer, believed to have been the steamship Governor, at 2 o'clock this morning, while off Point Sur. The vessels struck each other a glancing blow, which shook each ship from stem to stern and caused a panic for a few minutes, although comparatively no damage was done.

The unknown ship loomed out of the thick mist, rushing forward at full speed, according to Capt. Greene of the Virginian. The vessels were approaching in opposite directions, and although the fog whistles on both steamers had been blowing, the sound had not carried, and the first intimation the Virginian's master had was when the big steamer appeared directly ahead.

The lookouts on both ships yelled a warning and raced aft, expecting a head-on collision, which would have sent both ships to the bottom in no time, causing possibly one of the worst marine tragedies that ever occurred on the Pacific Coast.

Capt. Greene, who happened to be in the wheel-house, threw the wheel far over, and the big ship responded. The helmsman on the ghostly liner did likewise, and although the ships were but a few yards apart, and were rushing toward each other at a terrific speed, they responded with a sheering off sufficiently to avoid the fatal crash.

As a result, the bows of the two ships struck each other, a glancing blow, and scraped along, side by side, for an instant, until each was swallowed up in the fog.

LOVES SON OF PSYCHOLOGIST.

Engagement Announced of Daughter of Pullman Company President to William James, Jr.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Alice Rutherford Runkle, daughter of John N. Runkle, president of the Pullman company, and William James of Cambridge, Mass., son of the late Prof. William James of Harvard University, whose psychological researches caused much comment before his death, are to be married soon.

The announcement of their engagement was made today by Mr. and Mrs. Runkle, who live at No. 1525 North State street, Chicago.

Miss Runkle made her debut some years ago and has since been prominent in the younger set. In appearance she is tall, fair haired, of decidedly athletic build, and is exceptionally fond of outdoor sports.

The late Prof. William James, before his death, announced that he would attempt to return to this world in spirit form and communicate through spiritualistic mediums, with his friends and fellow students.

President of Denver Chamber of Commerce Scores Women for Missing Opportunities in Colorado.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DENVER, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the women of Colorado have failed to attain the results made possible by their possession of the ballot, was the opinion expressed by Charles A. Johnson, president of the Chamber of Commerce in an address before the Women's Club today.

"If the women of Colorado had given more attention to affairs at home and less to promoting suffrage in other States, they would have accomplished greater results with the suffrage they have enjoyed for the last seventeen years," declared Mr. Johnson. "In my opinion the women of the State should so direct their attention to affairs at home that they might set a standard for the women of other States to follow."

President Johnson had been invited to address the club on the subject of road roads, incident to the plan of the members to have directed into a national good roads fund the appropriation of $2,000,000 made by the Congress for a Lincoln memorial. He remarks upon women's suffrage, however, for a time, threatened to divert the discussion from good roads to a question of the ballot.

ANGELENO KILLS UNDERTAKER.

Mason, Nev., Scene of Murder for Which No Motive Can Yet Be Shown; Both Parties Prominent. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William J. Otter, undertaker and furniture dealer at Mason, was shot and instantly killed today at Mason by Dr. W. T. Elker, formerly of Los Angeles. Elker conducts a sanatorium at Mason and is regarded as one of the leading men of that place.

The murder occurred shortly after Otter emerged from the dining-room of a Mason hotel. He was met by Elker. After the two had conversed for several seconds, the latter drew his revolver and emptied the weapon into the body of Otter. No reason is assigned for the act and Elker refuses to discuss the matter.

MOFFAT LINE TO REORGANIZE.

Financial Plans Well Under Way to Extend Road to Salt Lake and Anthonie Coal Fields. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DENVER, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reorganization of the Moffat road will be authorized by the stockholders at a meeting to be held October 14, when arrangements made by William C. Evans and Samuel M. Perry of the directorate while in the East last summer will be disclosed.

At the meeting the stockholders will be asked to authorize a new issue of 5 per cent. bonds to the amount of $12,000,000, which will retire the issue of $12,000,000. An issue of $12,000,000 of 4 per cent. income bonds will also be voted upon and the capital stock, which is $10,000,000 of preferred and $10,000,000 of common, will be doubled in the same proportion, except that the new preferred will be 6 per cent. instead of 5.

It is apparent that a deal has been completed with the eastern bankers which will assure the completion of the road to Salt Lake, and it is expected that formal announcement of this effect will be made at the stockholders' meeting.

All of the new money needed will be devoted to the building of the line to Salt Lake, the Denver cut-off and the new line to the anthracite coal fields in Western Colorado.

Organized Gang of Crooks Believed to Be Operating on Trans-Continental Trains—Dramatic Scene When One Woman Accuses Another Before Passengers.

Thieves made two hauls on the Santa Fe Limited train which arrived in Los Angeles from Chicago yesterday afternoon, according to Hayden Talbot, who is at the Van Nuys and who lost a wallet containing about $250 and a lot of valuable papers, keys and other things. He was joined at the hotel by Reuben McDonald, Woodward, who was touched on the same train for $25, the latter asserts. Talbot says he left his berth and went back to the observation car for ten minutes, just after the train had left Winslow, leaving his wallet in his grip.

L. W. Hessel, Pullman conductor, and Lewis Morris, porter, told Talbot, the latter asserts, that there is scarcely a run of the train from Chicago here on which some individual has not been touched for large amounts, and this leads him to believe that there is an organized gang of transcontinental train thieves operating after the fashion of the old-time ocean liner robbers.

Woodward, whose berth was above Talbot's, did not miss his money until the following morning, when he discovered that his roll of bills containing $45 had been taken from his pocket and in place of the $5 and $10 bills those of $1 denomination had been substituted to make the roll appear of the same size, and thus escape notice of the loss to the owner until too late.

When news of the loss became known on the train, Talbot says, a dramatic situation was furnished by a woman said to be a Christian Science reader of New York City, who entered the observation coach and accused a Los Angeles woman of stealing the cash. In a loud voice she began to interrogate the young woman, who offered to permit any of the women to make a thorough search of her apparel and her personal effects.

Forty other women on the train offered to undergo similar scrutiny. Talbot made an offer of $250, the amount of money the wallet contained, if it would be returned to him with other papers, documents and keys intact. The railroad employees were notified by wire all along the route to look for the wallet.

PROVES IT LITERALLY.

Arizona Miner Bitten by Gila Monster But Stomach Full of Drinks Acts as Antidote.

If the bite of a gila monster is poisonous, alcohol is an excellent antidote, for Mathias Eigenherr, an Arizona miner, was bitten twice by one of the reptiles yesterday morning after he had indulged in several drinks and was released from the County Hospital in the afternoon apparently in good health as ever.

Eigenherr secured the gila in Arizona and brought it to Los Angeles in the hope that he might be able to sell it to some museum. He became emboldened by the liquor he had taken yesterday and while talking to an acquaintance at First and Wilmington streets said the reptile was very friendly. He reached his hand into the box in which he was carrying it and lifted it out. The gila apparently did not object to the handling until Eigenherr's left hand went within range when it quickly snapped, burying its fangs in the index finger. Eigenherr tore it loose and it then bit his thumb severely lacerating the flesh.

Detectives Beaumont and Roberts chanced to be nearby and while one captured the reptile with sticks and replaced it in the box the other took Eigenherr to the Receiving Hospital.

Reference to the medical works in the hospital gave the reptile a clean slate as far as human beings are concerned, although the medical authorities declared its bite is poisonous to animals. Reputation, however, placed the reptile in a bad light and as the police believed it dangerous it was killed. Chloroform and ether were given it in the Receiving Hospital but neither had any effect. The janitor of the hospital thought he could solve the problem and he threw cat food and water upon it. Gila didn't even blink. Finally it was taken to the basement and a policeman emptied his six-shooter into it and declared it was dead.

Dr. Robert J. Burdette refuses to fight a woman. He says he doesn't know how, because he never tried. Echo of War.

THE CASE of the government against Gen. C. Rhyas Pryce, whose extradition is sought by Mexico, on a complaint charging him with robbery in connection with the occupation of Tia Juana, by the insurgents, was concluded yesterday.

Immediately following the announcement by Frank Stewart, representing the Mexican government, a motion was made on behalf of Pryce's attorneys, that the complaint be dismissed and the accused released from custody, on the ground that no case had been made. Arguments were in progress at the adjournment of Commissioner Van Dyke's court, and will be resumed this morning.

favor of equal suffrage, and that she be permitted to take half an hour in expressing her views in opposition to it. In his reply, Dr. Burdette says: "I must decline the acceptance of your challenge. I am not, and never have been a 'woman fighter.' I fight for her, and do my best to help her secure the privileges to which I think she is entitled, but I have never taken the field against her. But I will be more than glad to meet your champion. Select any one of the Committee of Fifty, and I will be more than glad to meet your champion. I never tried."

In one of the paragraphs in the letter, he raps some of the champions of the suffrage cause over the knuckles, when he says: "Woman should ever shrink from the unnatural glare of the public platform, and constantly abide in the sweet security of the home, under the care of man, her heaven-appointed protector."

ASK SECRETARY FOR A RULING.

STATUS OF OIL LAND LEASES NEEDS EXPLAINING.

Los Angeles Commercial Organizations Would Give Banquet in Honor of Cabinet Officer and Send Invitations to Yosemite Seeking His Presence Here.

Walter H. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior, will be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Mines and Oil if Secretary Frank Wiggins of the former organization can persuade him to stop off for a short time next week on his way from Yosemite to the Grand Canyon. Wiggins spent a large part of yesterday afternoon in unsuccessful attempts to get in touch with the secretary's party, but has received no reply to his telegrams.

Secretary Fisher is at present in Yosemite. According to his latest plans he and his party are to leave there next Sunday on a special car over the Santa Fe for the Grand Canyon, which will be the only stop of any importance between California and Washington.

Leaders in local oil circles are desirous of having Fisher stop in the city, and may have a chance to give him their views in the matter of the withdrawal of public oil lands from entry. The Chamber of Commerce is anxious to do honor to this distinguished member of the Cabinet, but no entertainment plans will be made until his visit is a certainty and his desires are known.

G. M. O'Connell, secretary of the Chamber of Mines and Oil, said yesterday that the members are very much interested in the western trip of Secretary Fisher and are anxious to take part in entertaining him in case he visits the city.

"We are very anxious to get the secretary's views as to the necessity of adapting the leasing system to the Federal oil lands and learn his ideas of the details of such a system," said Secretary Swindell, yesterday. "We are also interested in an opinion from him as to the possibility of his advocating some bill other than the one now before the legislature, concerning the disposition of the withdrawn oil lands. The chamber naturally favors some bill other than the present proposition."

LANGUAGE AT Y.W.C.A.

Spanish, German and French to Be Featured Under Well Known and Competent Instructors This Winter. The Department of Languages at the Young Women's Christian Association will be in the hands of exceptionally competent instructors this year. Miss Katherine Kent continuing in charge of Spanish, and Mrs. Selma Bloom having been secured for French and German. The former is well known as the teacher of Spanish in the association for a number of years, while Mrs. Bloom comes from a family of language teachers, both in this country and abroad. She was born and reared in Germany and finished her education in France, and while using the French and German grammars in her instruction she will give special attention to inculcating an intelligent conversational use of the languages.

In connection with the classes, Spanish and German clubs will be conducted for the purpose of giving the pupils additional practice in the foreign tongues. The German club will be open also to any members of the association who speak or understand German.

Tomorrow and Friday, these two teachers will be at the building to consult with those who wish to inquire further about the work. These two days will also be the general rally days, and the building will be open to all visitors.

STORY OF LOOTING OF TIA JUANA STORE TOLD.

THE CASE of the government against Gen. C. Rhyas Pryce, whose extradition is sought by Mexico, on a complaint charging him with robbery in connection with the occupation of Tia Juana, by the insurgents, was concluded yesterday.

Immediately following the announcement by Frank Stewart, representing the Mexican government, a motion was made on behalf of Pryce's attorneys, that the complaint be dismissed and the accused released from custody, on the ground that no case had been made. Arguments were in progress at the adjournment of Commissioner Van Dyke's court, and will be resumed this morning.

The proceedings yesterday were notable for two things, the failure of Mrs. G. V. Stuck, employed in the Savine curio store in Tia Juana, at the time the town was taken by the insurgents, to give the testimony expected of her; and a number of depositions signed by Mexicans at Ensenada, alleging that Pryce had allowed the looting of the Savine store, when their statements were heard only

LARGE INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE.

Sixteen Thousand More Pupils in Public Schools of the State This Year Than Last—Gain in Los Angeles Nearly Five Thousand—Unofficial Figures.

County Superintendent of Schools Mark Keppel has compiled unofficial reports from the fifty-six counties of California, showing the average daily attendance in the public schools to be: Kindergarten, 41,285; high school, 2,976; common school, 253,599; total, 307,772. The gain for the year is: Kindergarten, 5,981; high school, 4,097; common school, 11,280; total, 15,375.

The number of statutory teachers as determined from the average daily attendance in the common schools is $544,525. Last year the number was $449,000. Fourteen counties lost 294 in average daily attendance; the largest loss being in Marin county, 87. Forty-four counties made a gain of 11,660. The ten leading counties in attendance are: Los Angeles, 55,606; San Francisco, 34,578; Alameda, 18,343; Fresno, 11,997; Santa Clara, 10,987; San Diego, 9,959; San Bernardino, 8,811; Sacramento, 6,815; Sonoma, 7,117; Tulare, 5,542. In point of gain for the year Los Angeles leads the State with 4,925.

The gain in the counties of Lower California is: Imperial, 166; Los Angeles, 4,925; Orange, 282; Riverside, 75; San Bernardino, 240; San Diego, 512; Santa Barbara, 25; Ventura, 101. Comparing Los Angeles county with all California, the figures show a gain in this county of 4,925, and a gain in all the balance of the State of but 11,280. The per cent. of gain in Los Angeles county is 43, and the figures indicate that during the year San Francisco gained but $18, as against the 4,925 gained by Los Angeles. Evidently this city is growing eight times as fast as San Francisco.

In the elementary schools Los Angeles county's attendance was $5,800, and the whole State was $52,599. Twenty-one per cent, or a trifle more than one-fifth of the common school attendance, is in Los Angeles county. Los Angeles county is allowed 1760.47 teachers of the $544,525, allowed to the State, or 43 per cent. The total average daily attendance in the high schools of the State was 34,976. The attendance in the eight southern counties was: Imperial, 261; Los Angeles, 9704; Orange, 928; Riverside, 778; San Diego, 1017; San Bernardino, 1078; Santa Barbara, 478; Ventura, 298; total, 14,493. The average daily attendance in the common schools in the eight southern counties amounts to $5,856.

A comparison shows that 32 per cent. of the common school attendance and 41 per cent. of the high school attendance of the State is in the eight southern counties. The Southern California counties maintaining kindergartens have an attendance as follows: Los Angeles, 5198; Orange, 96; Riverside, 62; San Bernardino, 48; San Diego, 223; Santa Barbara, 133; Ventura, 48; total, 3496. The kindergarten attendance in the remaining portion of California is only 442.

RAISE FOR PLASTERERS.

Contractors Desirous of Rushing Work to Completion, Give Mechanics Increase of Fifty Cents a Day. For the purpose of expediting the completion of several skyscrapers now in course of construction, Los Angeles contractors have given their plasterers an advance of fifty cents a day. The plasterers were previously paid $5 a day. It is stipulated that under the new schedule certain additional work will be expected of them. This fact was emphasized yesterday by Contractor Crowell, under whose supervision the new home of the Los Angeles Athletic Club is being erected.

The new scale of wages will prevail on all buildings where the contractors call for early completion. The union plasterers, realizing they had the contractors temporarily pressed for help, took advantage of the situation and, following the advice of the bosses and walking delegates, threatened to strike.

Little importance is attached to this latest difficulty with the unionists by the Master Builders' Association.

ANGELENO KILLS UNDERTAKER.
Mason, Nev., Scene of Murder for Which No Motive Can Yet Be Shown; Both Parties Prominent. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
RENO (Nev.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William J. Otter, undertaker and furniture dealer at Mason, was shot and instantly killed today at Mason by Dr. W. T. Elker, formerly of Los Angeles. Elker conducts a sanatorium at Mason and is regarded as one of the leading men of that place.

The murder occurred shortly after Otter emerged from the dining-room of a Mason hotel. He was met by Elker. After the two had conversed for several seconds, the latter drew his revolver and emptied the weapon into the body of Otter. No reason is assigned for the act and Elker refuses to discuss the matter.

A coroner's jury investigated the affair this afternoon, but the evidence elicited failed to shed any light on the occurrence. Otter was formerly employed by an undertaking firm here and before that time from Detroit, where relatives reside.

MOFFAT LINE TO REORGANIZE.
Financial Plans Well Under Way to Extend Road to Salt Lake and Anthonie Coal Fields.
DENVER, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reorganization of the Moffat road will be authorized by the stockholders at a meeting to be held October 14, when arrangements made by William G. Evans and Samuel M. Perry of the directorate while in the East last summer will be disclosed.

At the meeting the stockholders will be asked to authorize a new issue of 5 per cent. bonds to the amount of $40,000,000, which will retire the issue of $25,000,000. An issue of $1,000,000 of 4 per cent. income bonds will also be voted upon and the capital stock, which is $10,000,000 of preferred and $10,000,000 of common, will be reorganized in the same proportion, except that the new preferred will be 6 per cent. instead of 5.

It is apparent that a deal has been completed with the eastern bankers which will assure the completion of the road to Salt Lake, and it is expected that formal announcement to this effect will be made at the stockholders' meeting.

All of the new money needed will be devoted to the building of the line to Salt Lake, the Dolores cut-off and the new line to the anthracite coal fields in Western Colorado.

THIEVES DIVERT FAST FREIGHT.
SUBSTITUTE EMERALD BILLS FOR LARGE ON LIMITED.
Organized Gang of Crooks Believed to Be Operating on Trans-Continental Trains—Dramatic Scene When One Woman Accuses Another Before Passengers.

Thieves made two hauls on the Santa Fe Limited train which arrived in Los Angeles from Chicago yesterday afternoon, according to Hayden Talbot, who is at the Van Nuys and who lost a wallet containing about $250 and a lot of valuable papers and other things. He was joined at the hotel by Reuben McDonald Woodward, who was touched on the same train for $35, the latter asserts.

Talbot says he left his berth and went back to the observation car for ten minutes, just after the train had left Winslow, leaving his wallet in his grip.

L. W. Hessel, Pullman conductor, and Lewis Morris, porter, told Talbot, the latter asserts, that there is scarcely a run of the train from Chicago here on which some individual has not been touched for large amounts, and this leads him to believe that there is an organized gang of transcontinental train thieves operating after the fashion of the old-time ocean liner robbers.

Woodward, whose berth was above Talbot's, did not miss his money until the following morning, when he discovered that his roll of bills containing $45 had been taken from his pocket and in place of the $5 and $10 bills those of $1 denomination had been substituted to make the roll appear of the same size, and thus escape notice of the loss to the owner until too late.

When news of the loss became known on the train, Talbot says, a dramatic situation was furnished by a woman said to be a Christian Science reader of New York City, who entered the observation coach and accused a Los Angeles woman of stealing the cash. In a loud voice she began to interrogate the young woman, who offered to permit any of the women to make a thorough search of her apparel and her personal effects. Forty other women on the train offered to undergo similar scrutiny.

Talbot made an offer of $250, the amount of money the wallet contained, if it would be returned to him with other papers, documents and keys intact. The railroad employees were notified by wire all along the route to look for the wallet.

PROVES IT LITERALLY.
Arizona Miner Bitten by Gila Monster But Stomach Full of Drinks Acts As Antidote.
If the bite of a gila monster is poisonous, alcohol is an excellent antidote, for Mathias Elgenherr, an Arizona miner, was bitten twice by one of the reptiles yesterday morning after he had indulged in several drinks and was released from the County Hospital in the afternoon apparently in as good health as ever.

Elgenherr secured the gila in Arizona and brought it to Los Angeles in the hope that he might be able to sell it to some museum. He became emboldened by the liquor he had taken yesterday and while talking to an acquaintance at First and Wilmington streets said the reptile was very friendly. He reached his hand into the box in which he was carrying it and lit it out. The gila apparently did not object to the handling until Elgenherr's left hand got within range when it quickly snapped, burying its fangs in the index finger. Elgenherr tore it loose and it then bit his thumb severely lacerating the flesh.

Detectives Beaumont and Roberts chanced to be nearby and while one captured the reptile with sticks and replaced it in the box the other took Elgenherr to the Receiving Hospital. Reference to the medical works in the hospital gave the reptile a clean slate as far as human beings are concerned, although the medical authorities declared its bite is poisonous to animals. Repeatedly, however, placed the reptile in a bad light and as the police believed it dangerous it was killed. Chloroform and ether were given it but neither had any effect. The janitor of the hospital thought he could solve the problem and he threw carbolic acid upon it. Gila didn't even blink. Finally it was taken to the basement and a policeman emptied his six-shooter into it and declared it was dead.

DECLINES TO MEET HER.
Mrs. Scott Wishes to Appear on Suffragist Platform With the Noted Preacher-Humorist, But He Wants a Man.
Dr. Robert J. Burdette refuses to fight a woman. He says he doesn't know how, because he never tried. The cause of his saying these things, was a letter addressed to him by Mrs. William Forre Scott, anti-suffragist, asking that she be permitted to appear on the same platform with him, when he delivers his next address in favor of equal suffrage, and that she be permitted to take half an hour in expressing her views in opposition to it. In his reply, Dr. Burdette says: "I must decline the acceptance of your challenge. I am not, and never have been a woman fighter. I fight for her, and do my best to help her secure the privileges to which I think she is entitled, but I have never taken the field against her. But I will be more than glad to meet your champion. Select any one of the Committee of Fifty, and I will be more than delighted to meet him in a righteous cause. It is a joy to grapple with a man, but I don't know how to fight a woman. I never tried."

In one of the paragraphs in the letter, he says some of the champions of the suffrage cause over the knuckles, when he says: "Woman should ever shrink from the unnatural glare of the public platform, and constantly abide in the sweet security of the home, under the care of man, her heaven-appointed protector."

STATUS OF OIL LAND LEASES NEEDS EXPLAINING.

Walter H. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior, will be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Mines and Oil if Secretary Frank Wiggins of the former organization can persuade him to stop off for a short time next week on his way from Yosemite to the Grand Canyon. Wiggins spent a large part of yesterday afternoon in unsuccessful attempts to get in touch with the secretary's party, but has received no reply to his telegrams.

Secretary Fisher is at present in Yosemite. According to his latest plans he and his party are to leave there next Sunday on a special car over the Santa Fe for the Grand Canyon, which will be the only stop of any importance between California and Washington.

Leaders in local oil circles are desirous of having Fisher stop in the city so they may have a chance to give him their views in the matter of the withdrawal of public oil lands from entry. The Chamber of Commerce is anxious to do honor to this distinguished member of the Cabinet, but no entertainment plans will be made until his visit is a certainty and his desires are known.

"We are very anxious to get the secretary's views as to the necessity of adapting the leasing system to the Federal lands and learn his ideas of the details of such a system," said Secretary Swindell, yesterday. "We are also interested in an opinion from him as to the possibility of his advocating some bill other than the one providing for a leasing system, concerning the disposal of the lands drawn off lands. The chamber naturally favors some bill other than a leasing proposition."

"We would like to give a luncheon or banquet at which the members of the chamber and the secretary could meet. The discussion at the banquet would be confined to the matter of the oil lands and the secretary as the principal speaker."

Sixteen Thousand More Pupils in Public Schools of the State This Year Than Last—Gain in Los Angeles Nearly Five Thousand—Unofficial Figures.

County Superintendent of Schools Mark Keppel has compiled unofficial reports from the fifty-six counties of California, showing the average daily attendance in the public schools to be: Kindergarten, 4133; high school, 24,976; common school, 23,599; total, 302,713. The gain for the year is: Kindergarten, 185; high school, 4997; common school, 11,280; total, 15,975.

The number of statutory teachers as determined from the average daily attendance in the common schools is 9544.52. Last year the number was 9425. Of the gain of 119, the largest loss being in Marin county, 47. Forty-four counties made a gain in attendance are Los Angeles, 55,800; San Francisco, 14,578; Alameda, 19,343; Fresno, 11,097; Santa Clara, 1687; San Diego, 6959; San Bernardino, 6871; Tulare, 5542. In point of gain for the year Los Angeles leads the State with 4925.

The gain in the counties of Lower California is: Imperial, 166; Los Angeles, 4925; Orange, 252; Riverside, 75; San Bernardino, 149; San Diego, 515; Santa Barbara, 25; Ventura, 107. Comparing Los Angeles county with all California the figures show a gain in this county of 4925, and a gain in all the balance of the State of but 11,280. The per cent. of gain in Los Angeles county is 43, and the figures indicate that during the year San Francisco gained but 619, as against the 4925 gained by Los Angeles. Evidently this city is growing eight times as fast as San Francisco.

In the elementary schools Los Angeles county's attendance was 55,800, and the whole State's was 233,599. Twenty-one per cent. of the total more than one-fifth of the common school attendance, is in Los Angeles county. Los Angeles county is allowed 1769.47 teachers of the 9544.52, all lower than the State, or 18 per cent. The total average daily attendance in the high schools of the State was 24,976. The attendance in the eight southern counties was: Imperial, 201; Los Angeles, 9704; Orange, 938; Riverside, 778; San Diego, 1617; San Bernardino, 1078; Santa Barbara, 478; Ventura, 398; total, 14,432. The average daily attendance in the common schools amounts to $5,366.

A comparison shows that 32 per cent. of the common school attendance and 41 per cent. of the high school attendance of the State is in the eight southern counties. The Southern California counties maintaining kindergarten have an attendance as follows: Los Angeles, 5108; Orange, 90; Riverside, 63; San Bernardino, 46; San Diego, 223; Santa Barbara, 125; Ventura, 45; total, 5684. The kindergarten in the remaining portion of California is only 442.

STORY OF LOOTING OF TIA JUANA STORE TOLD.

THE CASE OF THE GOVERNMENT against Gen. C. Rhyas Pryce, whose extradition is sought by Mexico, on a complaint charging him with robbery in connection with the occupation of Tia Juana, by the insurgents, was concluded yesterday. Immediately following the announcement by Frank Stewart, representing the Mexican government, a motion was made on behalf of Pryce's attorneys, that the complaint be dismissed and the accused released from custody, on the ground that no case had been made. Arguments were in progress at the court of Commissioner Van Dyke's court, and will be resumed this morning.

The proceedings yesterday were notable for two things, the failure of Mrs. G. V. Stuck, employed in the Savine curio store in Tia Juana, at the time the town was taken by the insurgents, to give the testimony expected of her; and a number of depositions signed by Mexicans at Ensenada, alleging that Pryce had allowed the looting of the Savine store, when their statements were based only against Pryce. When she left the stand, where her evidence was chiefly notable for what she did not tell, Mrs. Stuck stopped in front of Gen. Pryce and shook hands with him.

Blanco Silvio, a son-in-law of Alexander Savine, whose store, it is alleged was looted at the command of Pryce, testified that a number of the stock was about $25,000. He did not witness the looting, but fled with other Mexicans to the customs house when the insurgents came in and threw up breastworks.

An important witness was Carlos Angulo, who had charge of the Savine store from May 13 to May 29. He testified as to an arrangement between Alexander Savine and Pryce, by the terms of which the accused was to receive fifty per cent. of the amount of sales from the Savine store during the trouble, and while Pryce's men held Tia Juana Angulo said that he paid over to Capt. Hopkins, who was an adjutant on the staff of Pryce, various sums between the dates mentioned amounting to about $500, and that both Pryce and Hopkins disappeared after the evening of May 29. He said Hopkins brought large quantities of

A close-up photograph of a document, possibly a book cover or a piece of paper. On the left side, there is a rectangular stamp that reads "FOR SALE" in bold, capital letters. Below this stamp, there are several horizontal lines, some of which are partially obscured by a dark, irregular shape. On the right side, there is another stamp that reads "HIGHER" in bold, capital letters. Below this stamp, there is a line of text that reads "College" and another line that reads "1 room". The document appears to be aged and has a textured surface.

NEW RAILROAD RUNNING TRAINS.

NEW RAILROAD RUNNING TRAINS.
Started in January to secure right of way and now he has a fully equipped railroad—Shale Deposits Are Being Developed With Great Profit.

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 19.—Regular trains started running on the P.N.E. Railroad today, in accordance with a time table which has been endorsed by President F. U. Nofziger. Passenger train service during the fall and winter months will be by motor car only, and it is anticipated that during the tourist season, when there is a heavy travel to the hills, it will be necessary to put regular passenger trains in service.

SHALE DEPOSITS.
Many of the large clay product firms of the Middle West have been apprised of the immense deposits of shale which are to be found along the banks of the Tule River and have made offers to the owners of the property for rights to work the deposits.

SHIPPING PROSPECTS.
Preparations have been made for the largest year's production in the history of the Tule River Mining Company, the largest magnesian mining company in the United States. Manager W. F. Bartlett states that the year's total shipping by the company will probably reach 40,000 tons.

OFFICIALS ARE ARRAIGNED.
Fresno Tax Collector and His Son Are Brought to Book on Serious Charge.
FRESNO, Sept. 19.—County Tax Collector A. B. Smith and his son, George A. Smith, County License Tax Collector, were arraigned before Judge Briggs today on a charge of bribery following their arrest last night by Deputy Sheriff Botsford. Their preliminary examination was set for Tuesday, September 26, at 10 o'clock. The charge is that the two Smiths accepted $40 worth of circus tickets from a circus for the privilege of securing a side show without paying the $25 license prescribed by the county ordinance.

COLTON NOTES.
COLTON, Sept. 19.—Considerable agitation has been raised on the liquor question here, owing to the fact that the recent ordinance, which was prepared carefully by the city trustees, failed to pass its second reading. Quite a number of citizens, it is stated, now favor getting up a petition signed by 25 per cent. of the property owners, to vote on either the same ordinance or one which might prove more favorable to the wet.

CHAMPION WEDS.
SANTA ANA, Sept. 19.—This afternoon at 4:45 o'clock Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, married William E. Coe, aged 22, and Miss Blanche Harris, aged 19, both of Los Angeles. Coe is the amateur featherweight boxing champion of Southern California. He gave his occupation as tailor. Accompanying the couple and acting as witnesses were the bride's father, Mr. W. H. Coe, and the groom's father, Mr. W. H. Coe.

Healthy and Growing
To Keep the Hair
A perfect and most inexpensive dry shampoo mixture is made simply by mixing a half pound of corn meal with four ounces of amoniac. Put in a fruit jar and stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture over the hair, then brush out thoroughly and your scalp will be clean and your hair light and fluffy.

WADDILL HALL, giving a further short address.
Plans are being prepared for the new Lindsay Hall, an architect of San Francisco. A lease is also being drawn for submission to a hotel man of San Francisco, who proposes to run the house for a term of years.

MANFORD MAN WITH A SACK OF COIN
Arrested Two Thieves and Marched Them to Jail.
MANFORD, Sept. 19.—Two men giving their names as George Adams and Charles Hauser of Seattle were captured and taken to the City Jail here last night by A. E. Gribb, a jeweler, who caught them attempting to rob his store.

THE ONLY WEAPON GRIBB CARRIED
A bag of money, which he had brought from a theater, which he had been taking tickets. Threatening the robbers with the sack of coin, he marched them to jail. Both Hauser and Adams were heavily armed.

PLANO.
PLANO, Sept. 19.—Columbus Jackson of the Plano district lays claim to the banner production of sweet potatoes for the year, his tract half a mile southeast of Plano in the foothills producing at the rate of $1940.39 per acre for his year's crop. Almost incredible is the production for the present crop, the potatoes running to an average of twelve pounds to the hill, or at the rate of over $5,000 pounds for the acre. At the current price of 1 cent per pound, the total acreage valuation of the crop is but a few dollars less than $2000.

EDWARD MADISON FUNERAL.
Services Over Kansas Representative to Be Held Friday—Friends Send Messages of Condolence.
DETROIT, Sept. 19.—The funeral of Edward H. Madison, Representative of Kansas, who died suddenly at his home here yesterday. They came from political friends among the insurgent Republicans, from "regular" Republicans, from Democrats and from personal friends throughout the United States. Among them was a message of sympathy to Mrs. Madison from President Taft.

COLLEAGUES TO ATTEND.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The Congressional Committee to attend the funeral of Representative Madison at Dodge City, Kan., was completed today. The House Committee named by Speaker Clark included the entire Kansas delegation. Besides Senators Curtis and Bristow of Kansas, the Senate Committee includes among others Senator Dixon of Montana.

WOMEN AT NEWPORT
Discard Face Powder
"During my summer's stay at Newport," writes Mae Martyn, "I was greatly interested in the unusually charming complexions of the women. I soon found that these fortunate possessors of perfect complexions no longer use powder, since it clogs up the skin pores and causes blackheads, wrinkles, etc. Instead they use a lotion, made by dissolving 4 ounces of spumase in either 16-plat hot water or 16-plat witch hazel, adding 2 level spoonfuls of glycerine. Where witch hazel is used the lotion dries more quickly.

YOUNG MOTHERS
No young women, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both she and her coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby too is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Adams, Co.

Great Tourist Hostelry for Beautiful Site Between the City and the Sea

The Three-Hundred-Thousand-Dollar Beverly Hills Hotel.

Construction upon which was begun simultaneously with the letting of the contract yesterday. The structure, which was planned by Elmer Gray, will be one of the finest examples of modern architecture in the Southwest. The hotel is being erected by the Rodeo Land and Water Company for Mrs. M. J. Anderson, for many years proprietor of the fashionable Hotel Rodeo.

Heat, Yet FIVE MILLIONS MORE IN BONDS.

Huge Issue May Be Asked for Power Distribution.

Voters' Authority Needed to Build the Plant.

Election on Question Likely to Be Held at Once.

Authority from the voters to issue bonds to the amount of $5,000,000 by the city of Los Angeles for constructing a power-distributing system in the city will be asked by the Council if the recommendation of the Public Service Commission is approved.

This will be in addition to the $2,500,000 already voted by the people for that purpose and for which the bonds are soon to be placed on sale by the Board of Public Works.

The action of the Public Service Commission was taken on receipt of a letter from E. F. Scattergood, chief electrical engineer of both aqueduct and power departments, which recites his previous estimates of the distributing system within the city.

By urging the adoption of the Scattergood report and estimates the Public Service Commission puts the increase in the city's debt by $5,000,000 up to the Council as a matter of policy at this time. As the latter body has been familiar with the progress of the power plans for two years, it is expected that there will be little delay in ordering the election to submit the proposition. It cannot be done at the general or other special elections, but must be separate from other questions. An election in November is probable.

While the work of constructing the power-houses, with their 90,000 horse power capacity, is in progress in the San Francisco Canyon, at the south end of the El Estero Lake tunnel, and additional ones of less capacity are being built at the San Fernando reservoirs, it is planned to prosecute the work of installing the distributing system within the city. Simultaneous completion of the power-houses and distributing system means an early enjoyment of the aqueduct electrical energy.

HAT PURCHASE PLANT.

Authority to bond the city for $5,000,000 does not mean that the city must build a distributing system. It may buy one. The feasibility of this has long been under discussion and as an aid to this Senator Leslie H. Hewitt, during the last session of the Legislature, had a law passed giving the city the right to condemn, in whole or in part, the plant or system of any public utility it desired to acquire.

Throughout the planning of the power system the officials have had in mind the taking over of one of the established systems and the one used by the Southern California Edison Company has been regarded as a suitable one for the city's purposes. It would require enlargement. So far, no attempt has been made to negotiate for the purchase of any of the existing systems, but it will doubtless be done after the bonds have been voted. It is believed that condemnation is too experimental because of the legal delays that might be caused and purchases or construction are believed to be the most available methods of acquisition of a distributing plant.

It is expected, of course, that the Council will discuss all phases of the project before taking action. Engineer Scattergood is on his way from Seattle to Chicago investigating power plants and distributing systems with a view to finally determining the plans for Los Angeles. In his absence the letter was taken up by the commission and a resolution and transmitting it to the Council with the recommendation that a bond election be called. The Scattergood letter in its essentials follows:

SCATTERGOOD'S LETTER.

(1) Estimates were made in May, 1910, for the purpose of determining the cost and values in connection with the light and power business in this city and particularly with respect to the distribution of electric energy for all light and power purposes. According to these estimates, the cost of a complete distributing system suitable for supplying all street lights and all commercial light

FROM ITS ASHES.

Plant of Hercules Oil Refining Company, Destroyed by Fire, Will Be Rebuilt Immediately.

After burning for about forty-two hours, the fire at the plant of the Hercules Oil Refining Company was extinguished about 6 o'clock last evening. Nothing was left of the 750,000 gallons of distillate but a stifling odor.

The asphalt tank in which was stored 1000 tons of asphalt was red and hot several feet below the surface, but all danger of near-by property lighting from the mass has been eliminated.

The loss was about $100,000, as near as members of the company can estimate. About half of this amount was credited to the oil and asphalt and the remainder to the buildings and equipment.

It is the company's intention, according to C. M. Bealey, treasurer of both the Hercules Oil Refining Company and the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company, to rebuild the plant as quickly as possible.

Representatives of the company will visit the ruins this morning and arrive at a definite conclusion in reference to the reconstruction work.

SIXTEEN-HOUR CASE.

A complaint was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by United States District Attorney McCormick, against the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railway, asking for a judgment for $2500. The allegation of the petition is that during the month of January last, the road violated what is known as the sixteen-hour law. The employees who, it is asserted, were worked more than that number of hours, were telegraph operators J. N. Grandee and W. T. Dugan at Kelso, Cal., and J. H. Foster and O. H. Perry, at Otis, Cal.

A Daughter of the Army.

PET OF VETERANS' HOME TO BE SOLDIER'S BRIDE.

Not That Kind of a Military Engagement.

The one in which this couple participate as principals will end today in a wedding with full military honors at the Soldiers' Home this evening. She is Miss Jean Moore, daughter of Maj. E. W. Moore, treasurer of the Home. She has spent all her life—nearly among soldiers and will continue to do so, for her fiancé, Lieut. William T. Cade, Jr., M.C. U.S.A., is now stationed at the Presidio, where the couple will go immediately after the wedding.

THE PET of the Soldiers' Home, beloved of 3000 battle-scarred, war-worn veterans, is going away tonight to a home of her own. "Little Jeanie," as the remnants of many regiments love to call her, is to become a bride.

It is an army man whom Miss Jean Moore is to wed, of course. He could be nothing else to win the hand of the daughter of Maj. E. W. Moore, treasurer of the home. She has grown up among soldiers and her earliest recollections are of the blue and gray. Her nursery tales were of battles and dreadful marches, and the gaudied men-at-arms have delighted to live over again their campaigns for the winsome wide-eyed child.

For fourteen of her nineteen years the bride-to-be has lived at the Soldiers' Home. The life she lives is not far from that which she simply goes to another military post, the Presidio, where the bridegroom, Lieut. Cade, will be the real military sort and the veterans will attend on masses. The ceremony is to be performed in Markham Hall, at 8 o'clock by Rev. Arthur J. Evans, rector of the Holywood Episcopal Church. There under the flag her loyal old friends will wish her happiness and good fortune and there she will bid them goodbye.

Dr. C. C. Elliott, of the Soldiers' Home will be best man, and the ushers will be Mendel B. Silverburg and Dr. H. C. Day of Los Angeles. Prof. Penn of Glendale and Dr. E. Clinton of the Soldiers' Home. Miss Daisy Moore, the bride's sister, will act as maid of honor and another sister, Miss Gertrude, with Miss Clara Seymour of Hollywood, Miss Edith Johnson of Glendale and Miss Louise Field of Los Angeles will be the bridesmaids.

WORK STARTS WITH RUSH ON MONSTER HOSTELRY

PAPERS were signed yesterday afternoon between the Rodeo Land and Water Company and the Alta Planning Mill Company by the terms of which the latter was formally awarded the contract for the construction of the magnificent tourist hotel planned by Elmer Gray for Beverly Hills. The enterprise was launched in whirlwind style, over 300 men going to work at once upon the excavation for the foundations for the monster hostelry, the preliminary announcements concerning which appeared exclusively in The Times several weeks ago.

Twenty-five minutes from the heart of Los Angeles and twenty minutes from the beach, the hotel will occupy the crest of a slightly knoll commanding a panorama including both. The contract signed yesterday calls for an outlay of approximately $250,000 for the building alone, exclusive of a $25,000 reinforced concrete garage for the use of the hotel's guests. About $25,000 will be expended in the landscaping of the grounds. The furnishings of the hotel will bring the total investment up to the $300,000 mark.

The building will be of the beautiful California Mission type and will cover an enormous ground area. Of the shape of a capital "T," the structure will consist of a central portion and two wings, the main part being 323 by 60 feet in size and the wings 100 by 110 feet and 75 by 100 feet, respectively. The main portion will be three stories in height, while the wings will each be four stories and the main portion will be five stories high.

The hotel, notwithstanding its mammoth proportions, will maintain a home-like atmosphere. "It will not set far back from Beverly Boulevard and will be approached by wide walks and drives. The pergola porch treatment will be carried out entirely around the building. One of the most beautiful features will be an arcade terrace across the front of the structure. In all, there will be sixteen sleeping porches and fourteen balconies. In appearance the hotel will rank as one of the modern in the country.

The Beverly Hills Hotel will be situated in the most commanding and slightly portion of the extensive Beverly Hills section and will mark a new era in the wonderful development that comparatively new section of the city has been making. Its proximity to the Los Angeles Country Club and the Rodeo Grounds will be one of its many advantages.

The Rodeo Land and Water Company, the builder of the hotel, is well known in the city. It was the company that sold the property to Mrs. M. J. Anderson, who for the past years has been operating the Hotel Rodeo at Hollywood Boulevard and Highland Avenue. Hollywood Mrs. Anderson will keep the new hotel open the year around. Its manager will be Stanley Anderson.

Flocking Together. HARRINGTON ARRESTED IN TVEITMOE'S OFFICE.

ATTORNEY JOHN L. HARRINGTON, chief of sleuths for the legal corps engaged in defending the McNamaras, was arrested in San Francisco by the police of that city, working in conjunction with the Bureau National Detective Agency, last evening.

He was released under $1000 bail, furnished by H. H. Appel, so that he can return to Los Angeles immediately to stand trial. The capture was made in the office of Olaf Tveitmo, secretary of the State Building Trades Council. Harrington has been sought by the Sheriff's office and Bureau attaches since Monday noon, when a warrant was issued for his arrest by Deputy District Attorney Veltch, on contempt proceedings growing out of his alleged intimidation of witnesses in the dynamiting cases. Monday night the warrant was sent North by Under Sheriff Brain and yesterday notification of its service was received.

W. A. Mundell, at the head of the Bay City Detective Agency in the Bay City, notified the police shortly after 1 o'clock p.m. that Harrington had been shadowed by his operatives to the office of Tveitmo. Sergeant of Detectives Driscoll was then detailed to serve the warrant. When Driscoll effected the office of Tveitmo he was told that Harrington was not there. A Driscoll was leaving the office a few minutes later and told him that Harrington was inside. Driscoll returned and placed Harrington under arrest.

Leconte Davis of the defense legal staff stated that Harrington would return to Los Angeles immediately to answer the charges against him. He said the arrest of Harrington was an effort on the part of the prosecution to win sympathy.

Davis argued that no man, woman or child who is scheduled to appear as a witness in the McNamaras trial, can be said to be a defense or State witness. "They are all witnesses," said Davis, "and they belong in the same class." For that reason the McNamaras attorneys will contend during the subsequent proceedings that their have as much right to "interview" State witnesses as their own.

The contempt proceedings against Harrington are regarded as of little import by the District Attorney aside from the charges of intimidation of witnesses. The latter are protected by the Penal Code from tampering of any sort.

COSTLY NEW CHURCH FOR CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

WITH the commissioning of Elmer Gray, architect, to prepare plans for a house of worship of ornate and classic design to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, the first definite step was taken yesterday looking toward the erection of a permanent home for the First Church of Christ Scientist of this city.

The new church, which, when completed, will be second in architectural beauty only to that of the 1900,000 Second Church, is to be erected on a commanding site at the corner of Alvarado street and Alvarado terrace. No details are as yet obtainable as to the specific character of the edifice, except that it is to follow the massive and imposing lines characteristic of churches of its denomination.

The First Church, which is the nucleus of the faith, has grown to its present proportions in Los Angeles, has been without a church, strictly as such, since its inception, six years ago. From its example have since been formed five other Christian Science Churches in this city, the sixth having been incorporated only a few days ago.

While it is not, in point of membership, the largest Christian Science Church in Southern California, it is looked upon as one of the most influential, numbering in its congregation a considerable proportion of members also well-known in the Mother Church, the president is W. W. Trill and its first reader G. M. Clifton.

While nothing official has been given out by the leaders of the church itself, it is understood that construction upon the new edifice will commence immediately after the plans are completed.

Homemakers Coming. Since September 15, four days ago, 200 colonists have arrived in Los Angeles on the cheap rates that west to effect Friday. They are coming from eastern and southern points to find new homes here. It is expected that the total will reach 10,000. The rates are to be effective until October 15.

THEY'LL GET TOGETHER.

Four Tracks Denied.

The Council adopted an ordinance revoking the right of the Pacific Electric Company to lay four tracks on Western avenue from Temple street to Bunker street. The report of the City Attorney showed that the original franchise for tracks in Western avenue was granted by the County Supervisors and provided for either a two-track or four-track system and that the company has never exercised its right to lay four tracks.

Wants Money Refunded.

D. B. Low, who operates the city incinerator, has made a demand for a refund of $250, which he states he paid the city as rental for the incinerator. Low asserts that the city agreed to send all the city's combustible refuse to the incinerator, but has failed to do so. The refund has been recommended by the Board of Public Works.

City Hall Notes.

The Council adopted the report of the Board of Public Utilities and refused to grant a franchise to the Salt Lake Railroad for a spur track on Avenue 11, Highland Park. The final hearing of the protests against the opening and widening of Twelfth street from Figueroa street to Serrano street will be heard in two weeks.

The Council appropriated $1000 for improving fire-engine house No. 10 on Hill street. The budget provided only $250 for this work, while the accepted plans provide for a total expenditure of $1000.

The second demand by the Board of Public Works, Public Health and the Ninth Ward Improvement Association that the city construct the proposed storm drain sewer under Hollister Park lake was referred to the Finance Committee. The Finance Committee yesterday set next Thursday afternoon for a hearing.

J. J. O'Brien has been appointed chief sanitary inspector of the health department. He will succeed Dr. J. R. Hancock who formerly held the joint position of medical director and chief sanitary inspector. A successor to Dr. Hancock as medical director has not been selected.

JEWEL AUTO DESIGNER LOSES FAMOUS MACHINE.

An Auto Built to Match a Finger Ring.

But which its fair designer never got to ride in and probably never will. It is the famous brougham, the creature of the brain of Mrs. A. L. Wampler, who sued the manufacturers because the automobile did not have its periphery bottles, bouquet-holders and other things quite according to specification. She lost her case yesterday because she refused to pay the stipulated price, $2450, except on the installment plan.

BROADSIDE FROM BENCH.

"You are revealing your state of mind, not the situation," exclaimed Judge Bordwell. "I am stating facts," Mrs. Wampler replied. Judge Bordwell wheeled in his chair until he faced Mrs. Wampler, and said: "Wait until my question is finished, for you may not be able to divine my meaning."

Attorney Donald Barker, for Plaintiff, asked Mrs. Wampler if she ever told McIntosh she was trying to sell her house to raise the full face value of the auto. "I was intimidated by Mrs. Wampler that the town, too, was one she proposed to wear when using the five-passenger brougham," she told the court that she had a collection of gowns for the purpose.

NELSON BEATS FOE TO PULP.

Looks As If Battler Real
Come-Back.

Dane Looks Good to Boxing Experts.

Referee Stops Contest In Tenth Round.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BOSTON (Mass.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Battling Nelson, the former lightweight champion of the world, hammered his way to victory in his bout with Billy Nixon of Cambridge here tonight, the referee stopping the fight in the tenth round of a scheduled twelve-round contest.
For seven periods Nixon, blinded by the swings of the former champion, fought pluckily on and received a terrible battering. The Dane did the greater part of his damage in inflicting. Nelson looked good and may be a
"come-back."

OXY HAS HEAVY MEN IN LINEUP.

Today marks the opening of what Occidental students promise themselves to be their best season at Haer Park. Coach Pipal has issued a call for all able-bodied men to come out and help boost the team along. The prospects at Oxy are particularly bright this year owing to the wealth of experienced men in the Tiger ranks who need only the services of a good coach to weld them into a great fighting machine.
With U.C. out of the conference,
the contest seems to be narrowed down to Whittier, Pomona and Occidental. However, advice from Rod-land's announce that the Citrus Growers intend to surprise the older members of the conference.
Whittier, as usual, is a comparatively unknown factor, though the loss of Deque, their star quarter, should weaken them considerably. Pomona is weakened as she already is, by the loss of "Million-dollar-set" Clark, will suffer a still worse setback if the rumored disqualification of "Dutch"
Shutt proves to be a fact.
Shutt has, in the past two seasons, proved himself to be the best half in the South and his loss would be a serious blow.
Occidental, on the other hand, has practically all of the old squad back in addition to promising new men.
The most promising candidates for the backfield on paper would seem to be Wieman, Bradbeer, Seay, Siefert and Schoonover.
For ends there are Dill, Kirkpatrick,
"Buster" Brown and Yabesley, while for the positions in the line, such men as available as Landreth, Capt.
Renaud, Jones, Piffard and the Lane brothers, from the academy ranks.
On the whole the Tigers seem justifi-ably in their optimistic outlook as last year was their off year and it looks like their pennant this time.
Coach Stanton, of the Sagebrushers, knows Pipal back East, and is quoted as saying that he is up against a harder proposition this year in the shape of the new Tiger coach than ever before.
The Tiger team this year promises to be much heavier than that of last year. Drury Wieman blew in this morning and tipped the scales in the gym at 260 pounds exactly, and hard as he talks after three months of old sides at McKittrick, while "Red" Jones is said to weigh no less than 267 pounds.

Conley (on the left) yesterday ordered the championship belt that McCarey is to give the winner of the Kilbane Conley fight made 31 inches in length, which is Conley's waist measure.

clusive Dispatch.] Jim Barry

able to knock him out.

JOHNS HOPKINS HOPES TO BEAT NAVY.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]
BALTIMORE (Md.) Sept. 19.—The football team of Johns Hopkins University is planning to catch the Navy sleeping, just as Rutgers did last autumn. Hopkins plays at Annapolis on October 7. During the last two weeks of September between twenty and thirty Hopkins football men will work out plays at a seashore resort, where they hope to confound the midshipmen.

Articles were signed last night for a match between Joe Rivers, and Frankie Conley to take place October 14. This goes no matter who wins the match between Conley and Kilbane.

Frankie Conley yesterday called up Uncle Tom McCarey over the tele-

ALREADY HAS BELT.
Frankie has one belt that was given by McCarey to him following his defeat of Monte Attell, and he prizes
it highly. Now he says that he wants the newest belt that McCarey will offer to add to his collection.

Conley will not leave Los Angeles after his fight with Kilbane, or after he meets Rivers, if he ever does. He says that he is heading East for his mother, who will join him in Los Angeles. Conley will make this city

WON'T STAND CLASS C

Pacific Coast League to Place.

Must Have Same Footing
All Minor Teams.

Draft Problem to Come Later.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The failure of full representation of all the clubs visiting the Coast League, in attending an important business special meeting called tonight.

Happy Hagan and Ed Malar
son and Judge W. W. McCarey Portland found it impossible to attend, owing to pressing business, and only Henry Burr
Angels, Frank Ish, Cal. State
Denny Long of San Francisco, Walters of Oakland and Charles ham of Sacramento were in attendance.

One of the most important times adopted was the determination the Coast League to remain a single class at all times. In words, the Coast League will give a higher rating, but does not to be placed lower than any other league.

The talk of the American Association and Eastern League of higher classification than Class C discussed, and it was decided the Coast League would not stand alone. The Coast League will remain on the same footing as the other Class A organizations.

A couple of changes were made in Coast League rules.
It was decided by vote that a player has a right to switch to another club in the league, if he has been asked to deliver a pitch, a pitcher has been asked to pitch.

It was decided to suspend
a player if he was not in the league for September 15, which was adopted to be away with out-league players after the season is closed.

A resolution was adopted to a committee of six, a director of club in the league, to act on the part at the annual meeting of the league, the date of which was named later.

No official action was taken in manner in which the major are allowed to draft players from minors. This matter was put until the annual meeting of the league at San Antonio this fall.

It was expected the matter of a league with out-of-league players would be taken up and a decision adopted to the effect that if the major league will start another out-of-league was decided to postpone action until all members of the Coast League are present.

WON'T BE OUTLAWS SAYS HEN BERR

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In discussing outcomes of the meeting, Hen Berr president of the Los Angeles club had the following to say:

"There was nothing in the talk of the Coast League going out of the league, but it was a very simple reason that a lot of the league business had piled up and had to be attended to. The Coast League is not hunting for trouble
if the major league will give us a square deal we will meet them any day. The matter of the way the league draft our players will be taken up at the meeting at San Antonio this fall."

"Everything was calm and patient tonight, and we were together to promote the best interests of baseball on the Coast. We will ask for higher classification than Class C,
but will insist that no other minor league be advanced."

"We do not want to have other minor leagues promoted to a point that they can draft our players, and we will make a fight to prevent that. They do not get such a privilege in the major league."

"The failure of Hagan and Ed. Malar to remain over for the meeting prevented us from transacting some business, which will have to be taken up at our regular meeting."

SWEDS PREPARING FOR 1912 OLYMPIC GAMES

LONDON, Sept. 19.—During the last year or so there have been great reports from Sweden and what the Swedes were going to do in the next Olympic games. According to the gossip they would sweep the deck and make the rest of the world look small. This was to be the most especially in the sprints and middle distances, the only country figured to have a look in being American, and even then the Yankee would have to be thoroughly wound up to be in the running. How good the Swedes really are was shown recently in the international match between All-Sweden and the London Athletic Club.

It was a noteworthy fact that the English club did not have a titheholder on the team, yet the Swedes were not able to win one of the sprints or middle distances. In the 100 meters Stewart of the London Athletic Club won in 17.1 seconds and in this year's English championship he was beaten by Ramsdell. Upon forward Stewart turned out and won the 200 meters by yards from the nearest Swede, Abraham of the London Athletic Club, the time of the winner being 35.4 seconds.

Taylor of the London Athletic Club won the 800 meters in the slow time of 2 minutes 2.1 seconds. Stuart of the London Athletic Club won the 100 meters in 17.1 seconds and a Swede was second, about three

O'ROURKE-HOGAN BATTLE LIKELY TO MEAN PENNANT

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

CAPT. PATSY O'ROURKE and General "Happy" Hogan will begin hostilities this afternoon at Washington Park at two forty-five,
the former being backed up by the fighting Senators, while the latter will call all his Tiger forces into the fray.
This series bids fair to be an exciting and a crucial one for several reasons.

In the first place, Vernon has just returned from Portland, where the team was forced into second place in the league race by the Beavers. Secondly, the Senators are going better than ever before this season. The Tigers are hitting like wild fire, and there seems to be a winning spirit spread over the entire crowd.

Then the Solos are fighting for fourth place, hoping to have the Seals into the near cellar championship before the season closes, and this series with Vernon, means a lot toward this goal.

Portland won yesterday and now is well in the lead, being over two games in front. To overcome this handicap Hogan will have to win at least four out of the seven games, while Oakland will have to make Mc-Credie's men take the count in half of the games played.

These Oakes have been going along at a great pace for the past three weeks and it would prove almost fatal to Hogan's chances if they should suffer a blow up at this stage of the game, which is not at all unlikely.

O'Roourke said yesterday that he thought his team would beat Vernon four out of seven as an easy bet.
"Pitchers are going strong," said Pat last night. "And I can't seem to see Hogan on the long end of the percentage when we take the final count next Monday night. I like Hap
all right, and wish him all the luck in the world, but we got to have fourth place, and we got to beat Hap to do it, so there you are." And that is just about it.

In speaking of the meeting of the league to take action on the drafting rule O'Roourke said yesterday:

FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—(Ex-Dispatch.) Southpaw Halla, pitcher, of the twenty-one-inning duel with Spider Baum, at Angelo last Friday, was started at the Seals today in the opening of the series, but it was before the first inning was over that he should have left his wing in the sling for another two.

Seals fell on him for three and coupled with a walk, it was enough to cause Dillon to chase the clubhouse.

TWENTY-EIGHT PLAYERS AND THIRTY-EIGHT HITS.

Boston and St. Louis Put on Game That Beats Anything on Barleque Wheel—New York Increases League Leadership While Windy City Boys Drop Some More.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—It took twenty-eight players two hours and a half today to play a game of ball in which the seven participating pitchers were found for a total of thirty-eight hits and twenty-five runs.

A sensational ninth-inning rally ended the farce in St. Louis' favor. Pitchers Stanridge, Camnitz and Dale and Utility Player Reed made their debut with the home team. Second baseman Kirke of New Orleans played his first major league game with Boston.

The second game was called off to allow Boston to catch a train for Pittsburgh. Score: St. Louis 10, Boston 3.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—New York today made it three straight from Pittsburgh. Ames was strong all the way and shut out the home team until the ninth inning, when Campbell scored the only run for Pittsburgh on his hit, a pass to Wagner and a single by Miller. Score: New York 10, Philadelphia 3.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—George was effective today until the seventh inning, when four hits, a pass and a double steal netted Philadelphia five runs and the game. Score: Philadelphia 5, St. Louis 3.

WINDOW NOTES.

The windows of the Fashion Show present many distinct changes in shades for men and every change is for the better.

All freshness has been eliminated from suit models—leaving them roomy and comfortable, and conforming more to the body-shape of the figure.

Shirts are added just enough to give a smooth, rounded contour to the shoulders and graceful drape to the sleeves.

Trousers will be worn to a certain extent, but are really a thing of the past. Trousers that are right up to "modern" will be a bit smaller and straighter in lines, but not tight.

COMPLIMENTARY to the nurses of the Civil War, Mrs. Maud Merrell, who recently at her home, No. 1915 Federal street, a mound of pink roses combined with maidenhair ferns graced the center of the table, and hand-decorated cards which harmonized marked places for Miss Adeline Miller, Mrs. H. J. Sturges, Mrs. Grace Lawrence, Mrs. Mary E. Haddon, Mrs. Almina Reynolds, Mrs. Margaret Hayes, Mrs. Cora B. Sampson, Mrs. Maud Merrell, Miss Margaret Goodwin, Mrs. Lillian B. Starbird, Mrs. Jennie K. Goodwin, Mrs. Julia Moore, Mrs. Lillian Magoon, Mrs. Winifred McLaughlin, Mrs. Mary E. Carson, Mrs. Emily May, Mrs. Ruth Denn and Mrs. Dagna Haught.

After luncheon the guests retired to the beautiful parlors festooned with garlands of autumn leaves and pink roses. An excellent programme of music and readings was presented by Miss Margaret Goodwin and Miss Emily Morgan, which was followed by stories of the Civil War told by the army nurses.

At Home.
Mrs. Fred Leonard Mowder, No. 164 South Union avenue, will be at home to friends the first Friday of each month.

Announce Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Finney, No. 115 North Coronado street, formerly announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Beryl, to Frank V. Biggy, September 11. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. F. Irvine. Mrs. Biggy, who is very popular with the younger social circle, is a graduate of Los Angeles High School. Mr. and Mrs. Biggy have gone to San Francisco and the Yosemite Valley for a honeymoon trip, and after October 15 will be at home to their friends at No. 1614 Madison avenue, this city.

Returning from Europe.
Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Norman Chaffin, who have been touring Europe the last summer, expect to return some time the latter part of the month. En route they will pass a few weeks in New York City and Chicago.

Luncheon at the Virginia.
One of the last season's brides, Mrs. Albert H. Winter, was the honoree at a luncheon given at Hotel Virginia recently by Mrs. Helen Doherty, who has lately returned from a trip to the Orient. The place cards used were from China and the favors from Japan. The luncheon was elaborately appointed, and the dainty Cecile Brunner rose was the flower used in decorating for the affair.

Engagement Announced.
Mrs. Dwight J. Wilbur, No. 828 South Alvarado street, formally announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Theresa May, to Frederick Mackey Palat of Philadelphia. No date as yet has been set for the wedding.

Arrived Hotel Arrivals.
Dr. Andrew Patterson, Mrs. E. H. Nichols, Mrs. L. J. Gibbs, Dr. L. H. Altan, Mrs. J. S. Silberman, Mr. R. H. Silberman, N. Euter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wheatley, Dr. W. J. Latta, Dr. and Mrs. Sanborn, Dr. E. C. Day, W. W. Martin, Miss John A. Scott, and Mrs. Robert Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. White, Miss Mabel Dora, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nightingale, R. T. Bee and Walter Blawick of this city, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson of Riverside, Dr. George F. Padena, Mrs. Harrison R. Ward and Miss Gertrude Johnson of Santa Monica, Mrs. A. W. Ballard of Phoenix, Ariz., and James Ward of Belfast, Eng.

Autumn Bride Complimented.
A charmingly appointed card party was given recently by Miss Madeline Harris of Pasadena, complimentary to Miss Marcia Graves, who is to be one of the autumn brides. Her engagement having been announced to Chas. Raymond Loring of Boston, the wedding to occur late in October.

The handsome home was daintily decorated for the occasion in simple fashion, the lovely fall asters in their

When Dr. Charles E. Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city, preached a sermon in favor of woman suffrage last Sunday night, he did not represent the most influential women in his church.

The ladies in Dr. Locke's own household, both his wife and his daughters, are strongly opposed to the equal franchise.

Mrs. Walter H. Fisher, No. 2641 Wilshire boulevard, president of the Foreign Missionary Society of Dr. Locke's church, says that many of the influential women of the church are anti-suffragists. Speaking for herself, Mrs. Fisher says: "I do not believe in woman suffrage. I think that woman has her work in the home. Women are not slaves in any sense of the word. They are free to do exactly as they please along the lines of their particular work, and there are so many lines of work that are unshared for now, things that only women can do. Let women wait until they have tilled all their own fields before they begin to tear down the fences to get into their neighbor's meadow to plow and sow. One trouble with the world today is that mothers are not doing their work. Children are not being properly trained. If boys are brought up filled with love and courage and respect for the finer things, this old world will roll smoothly enough to suit the most fastidious."

Mrs. F. R. Warner, No. 2217 Harvard boulevard, is one of the leading women in Dr. Locke's church. Both she and her daughter, Mrs. Emory Warner, are opposed to woman suffrage.

Mrs. Emory Warner says: "Mother and I are both strongly opposed to woman suffrage. Mother has been more outspoken than I have, but I feel as deeply. I know that many of the most influential men and women in our church are anti-suffrage in sentiment. I cannot understand how a few women can have the nerve to try to impose the ballot upon all the rest of the women of California."

Also Dr. Locke does not represent all the ministers of his denomination. Bishop McIntire, who was Dr. Locke's predecessor as pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, has placed himself upon record as having seen no good result from woman suffrage as it exists in Colorado. Bishop McIntire speaks with the authority of one who has lived in Colorado since the women of that State acquired the right to vote.

Dr. E. F. Ryland, pastor of Hollywood Methodist Episcopal Church, expresses himself as being seriously concerned with the question of woman suffrage.

"It is," Dr. Ryland says, "a radical change which is contemplated, and I believe that most men are earnestly considering the matter. I am by heredity and family traditions strongly prejudiced against woman suffrage, but I believe I will do my forebears the greatest honor by not permitting the winds of sentiment to daily with my power of the ballot. I want to be reasonable. I don't want my natural tendency to oppose the movement to overcome my judgment. I can find a sound reason back of the request for the equal franchise. If I did, my position would be intuitive rather than rational. My position at present is that of a seer after the truth of the matter, but I am instinctively opposed to the movement."

SOLONS LOADED IN AUTO PATROL.

COUNCIL CHAMBER RAIDED BY CHIEF AND HUSKIES.

City Officials Placed Behind Locked Doors in Eastside Jail and Ordered to "Fall To"—Willing Prisoners Finally Released After Doing "Stir."

Though no reluctance was shown by members of the City Council yesterday to attend a dinner at the East Side Jail given by Capt. Lehnhausen, the dinner was left for them to escape for Chief Sebastian and Capt. Haupt, assisted by uniformed huskies invaded the Council chamber, placed the members under "arrest" and then took them to the East Side Jail in the police patrol.

The dinner, which proved to be a positive success, consisted of corned beef and every variety of vegetable grown in the jail's gardens. It was Capt. Lehnhausen's boast that with the exception of the coffee and the bread and beef the ingredients of the dinner had been carefully raised by the jail gang.

Robert Patterson, an east side hotel man who is "doing" a few days for a recent infraction of an ordinance requiring the keeping of registers in hotels, cooked the food and the singing was performed by a motley array of maids, petty burglars, beggars and common "vags."

The dinner was served in several courses and as soon as the guests had entered the jail dining-room they were locked in by Detective McNamara and not permitted to leave until everything had been consumed. There proved to be no necessity for locking the doors, however, unless it was to prevent the prisoners from swarming in like harpies and pouncing upon the delicacies.

A combination salad served in opening the attack and Billy Matuskiwsky, property clerk, marched up and down the line replenishing the supply. Then came vegetable soup.

On the menu appeared cucumbers, green peppers, tomatoes, onions, radishes, potatoes, turnips, Hubbard squash, summer squash, cabbage, corned beef, carrots, lettuce, egg plant, apple sauce, cantaloupes and coffee.

Those who attended the dinner were: G. B. Anderson, E. O. Edgerton, Frank G. Henderson, Guy Eddie, Charles Wellborn, George J. Stewart, Miles S. Gregory, F. J. Whiffen, J. Andrews, R. M. Lusk, George Williams, R. E. Haupt, T. L. O'Brien, Dr. L. M. Carroll, Charles L. Wilde, Mark C. Cobb, Martin P. Bickowski, C. E. Sebastian, A. L. Neppelt, Chief of Police of San Bernardino, G. I. Prosperity Statistics

BANKING STATISTICS SHOW INTERESTING FACTS.

Recent banking statistics show some interesting facts regarding prosperity. It is a well known fact that savings depositors are usually so found among the more prosperous classes. While a great many statisticians attribute this to the fact that the prosperous ones are the saving ones, these statistics seem to show its opposite is true, that the saving ones are the prosperous ones. These statistics show that in 32 per cent. of the cases prosperity did not come until after starting bank accounts. The majority of savings accounts are opened on a small scale, but these figures overwhelmingly prove that they pay.

Why don't you start an account today at the Merchants' Bank and Trust Co., 207 S. 11th Street? The same courteous service is accorded every depositor, whether your account be

This statement is borne out by Mr. Stoenner, who smilingly greeted various claimants all day yesterday, as they filed in and out in a sort of reception.

"But at any rate," says Mr. Stoenner cheerfully, "I haven't taken any sudden vacation, and I don't propose to. I'll be right here on the job, and I hope to straighten up every claim against me, if I have to put 'The Golden Phoenix' on somewhere to do it."

To date Oliver Morosco hasn't returned. Mariotte Rambona, Max Flanagan hasn't caught any record. Shelby Brown hasn't quit playing the modified on his west-end property, and Virginia Gordon hasn't gone back on the town.

of the tapestry outlined with cord of antique gold. Upon the other side a narrower slit above a black velvet panel has edges joined with fringes of cord in gold and blue. The one-sided effect, which is the season's supreme fad, is still further emphasized in this striking model by showing one kimono sleeve of tapestry with velvet cuff applied in brocade, the tapestry forming a cape over the shoulder, and hanging in a point at one side of the back, and running into very wide revers in front. The other sleeve is of black velvet with cuff of tapestry applique. A heavy band of skunk outlines the neck and follows the revers. This original design is by Weeks of Paris. The black velvet hat, faced with fine French felt, is trimmed with black ostrich plumes.

black panne velvet decollete and en train. The over-drape is caught together at the front in a great knot of velvet, with a fall of small chenille balls. The under dress is of fine gold lace with border of black velvet embroided in silk chenille of blue, violet and gendarme, intermingled
with small gold beads, elongated gold bugles and fine bullion thread. The gold lace of this under dress forms a vest upon the bodice. The skirt, one side in width, is edged with a black velvet band as is the fascia of embroider; and a black velvet revers folding back upon the fascia, is edged with an embroidery in chenille in coronation blue. The elbow sleeves are formed from three ruffles of butter-colored Brussels lace. The short-pointed train is of the black panne velvet.

The coat to match is of black panne velvet, with gold lace sleeves edged with skunk. One sleeve has the effect of being buttoned into the garment with huge black satin buttons covered in Irish crochet, of coarse black silk thread; the other sleeve is over-topped by a long-pointed (angel) sleeve of duchesse satin, weighted upon the skirt by a heavy tasseled silk thread. Thus the maker has obtained the "one-sided" effect so essential to smart garments of this season's make. The coat is built upon white duchesse satin, faced back with lace of gold. The side fronts and the back are draped together and caught in place with large choiceted buttons.
Directly in the back and flaring from the neck is set a large panne velvet
bow. With this, is worn a large black velvet hat with brim extending wide upon one side and narrow at the other. The shape piled high at back with shaded plumes of coronation blue and black.

THE NEW YORK.
The New York Cloak and Suit House shows here with an evening coat in orchid satin and gold brocade;
a garment of superbly sweeping in-edged around the skirt and up the front with heavy bands of white mouffon. The hat, a velvet shape to match, is trimmed with a pyramid of orchid ostrich.

Another model, is a theater gown

of black chiffon, draped over champagne duchesse, the overdress, curiously crossed and caught in front in a loop of chiffon, in an original way, the same effect being repeated at the back. Venice bands wrought with the arms of Venice, pass diagonally and the same material forms
the large revers upon the bodice.
Jeweled buttons fasten the waistband of black velvet, and the sleeves of tucked chiffon are edged with bands of velvet. A broad padded band of champagne satin, edged at the top with box pleats finishes the under dress.

COULTER'S.
Coulter's show a misses' dancing frock of beige blue chiffon, built upon messaline to match. A band of satin holds in place the fullness of the upper skirt which is underlaid with heavy bands of cluny, and from the satin band depends a fringe of blue silk balls falling almost to the gar-

the front panel is held to that which formed the back, by a heavy ornament made from antique gold tassels and cord. Another ornament holds the panels of front and back together upon either side. The bodice is draped with a part of the tunic which extends up over one shoulder, giving the one-sided effect so essential this season. The under dress is of gold and blue chiffon—in changeable material which shimmers as it catches the light; and the gold is again brought out in the antique lace of the short sleeves, which also edged the decollete corsage. The skirt is in round length.

front—Ville de Paris.

It is built of black charmeuse, draped in the popular one-sided effect, and embroidered in king's blue chenille and strands of gold bullion thread.
The bodice of chiffon is built upon king's blue satin Duchesse and richly embroidered in chenille and gold.
The skirt has an over-drape of charmeuse, caught up at the side with a huge plaque of the embroidery and edged with side fringe. The small train of fish-tail design, is underlaid with king's blue satin Duchesse.

HALE'S.
A coat shown by Hale Bros. is of beige French cloth, with wide embroidered, beige silk braid in a heavy design over square-meshed net of beige. The wide revers and cuffs are of the same with small revers of turquoise satin. The shoulder bag is composed of lurid embroidery to match. A hat, a Lyons velvet shape in black, is embroidered around the crown in Josephine wreaths of small hand-made flowers in cloth of gold. A huge pyramid of plumes is posed directly at the back.

PARIS STORE.
The Paris Store shows in this issue
a direct importation from Harris, Paris, of black silk marquisette, gathered all round the slightly-raised waist line which is outlined with a coron of beads. The tunic has a twelve-inch border in solid encrusta-tions of hand-applied fine beads, in a bold Egyptian design, in turquoise blue, black and gold. The tunic is slightly raised in front over an under-dress of black charmeuse satin. The bodice, solidly encrusted with the beaded design, has a panel sash of the same beaded, extending from the Empire waist line and forming a fishtail train. A delicious short-waisted coat, with skirts gathered evenly all around, is formed from solid heading in the turquoise, gold and black. The

In another window, smart clothes men. This house is rich in especially street and outing clothes, all carrying the latest models and giving results in fitting far above usual ready to wear. A Paquin brand will display a superb robe in new shade of emerald. It is in a satin material, with a woven velvet border with embossed roses in emerald on black velvet. The court train and tulle are edged with fine black chenille fringe. Bodice of emerald crepe chiffon, plastron of velvet wreath. It is up over an under bodice of fine bullion thread, hand run on in silk net. The short tucked robe is edged with black chenille fringe. Evening gown of canary silk over white satin with silver and embroidery. A Paquin brand. Other gowns by Drecol. Hathewson: Examples of high class by to wear suits and blouses, both red and lingerie.

LADIES' TAILORS.

Manager: One window of this high-class ladies' tailor will show goods in red and brown shades in the season's best mode; another exhibit will be in the new blues, and two of fests, which will find much use for dressy tailored suits and a number of the tailoring establishments, which compare favorably with any in their exhibits, were on the street, are presented from the location in the Fashion Show by its location in the large buildings. Greene & Sons, Nathanson, Bernard, Brown—are situated thus; as are also Goldman, J. Spector, Park-Berger, H. Heston. The same is true of many of the houses dealing in ready-to-wear—such as Davidson's Sample Shop, Empire Sample Suit Company, Original Sample Suit Company, Mart, Hoffman, S. Jacobson, The Original Sample Hat Parlor, are also committed to hold their opening above the line of vision. In the French Shop will be noticed new turban shape in royal Lyons best, with band of upright metallic others, set with a double wreath of beaded flowers of Berlin yarn in green, purple and yellow.

CAWSTON'S.

In the window of the Cawston Ostrich Store is a royal display of plumes, in feathers from their great birds. The true coronation color shows a deeper tone of blue than the purples which formerly found favor. One especially regal plume attracts much attention. In pleasing contrast to the purple shades is the new cerise, a "cherrie" color than this same has heretofore implied. The inevitable touch of gold is given in the assemblage of well-earned medals from numerous world's expositions. This establishment has regular customers in all.

Collins exclusively reveals the Beulah hat. With crown of coral velvet. It has a narrow band of mink and a fall of fine white lace hand in its exquisite gold bullion. A wreath of Berlin worsted flowers is set below the fur. The fall of lace extends to the shoulder on the left, where it ends with a point weighted with a used of antique gold. Hoffman: Millinery in purples running into the red tuchis shades in the window, and in another, black and white effects. Bennett's: Two of the latest Parisian hairdresses. Long Beach Ostrich Company: Ostrich feathers in shades of brown and natural Paradise. Schofield will show new fall shapes of hats. The Marvel: Exclusive millinery novelties and new things in semi-erect hats, with a window depicting the possibilities of royal purple.

fox. The neck piece, composed of two full skins, heads, tails and feet, and large muffs with wide puffed lining in taupe satin; the set made up by this house, whose specialty is making rare skins into original design. Obrikat, on Hill street, has a window filled with sets of the season's favorite furs, at extremely moderate prices.

JEWELERS.

Montgomery Bros.: A handsome showing of diamonds and new designs in solid silver household ware. Also a window full of watches. Nordlinger: A superb collection of sapphires, with the same color carried out in accessories in the window. Field & Walton: Quaint Indian jewelry and semi-precious stones. Whitley's: A superb collection of rare coral, to meet the renewed demand for this beautiful product. Brock & Feagans: An exhibit of Tiffany's latest ware, and a special showing of original designs. The Harris store at No. 425 South Broadway will have an unusually attractive display of footwear. White leather predominates. Ladies' and men's white shoes, both high top and oxfords, will be shown in brilliant array. The latest high-top ladies' boot in four different leathers is shown while the pumps for midday display attractiveness in satin, suede, gun-metal and tan.

SHOE STORES.

In Staub's new store I found that newest styles from their freshly-placed stock could be obtained at remarkably reasonable prices. The little window to the right will always be reserved for the latest fads in slippers. "Bare shoes at low prices" is the slogan of the newly-established "Staub's." The Bootery will have a varied display of exclusive styles in footwear. Among the newest you will notice boots of tan, with stitching of white silk. Also observe the heel foxing designed and introduced by this house exclusively.

The Mammoth Shoe Store at No. 519 South Broadway, will give over its window display to a showing of the latest models and latest in footwear. No special design will be featured but the windows will depict a profusion of different lasts and shapes of shoes. The Harris store at No. 425 South Broadway will have an unusually attractive display of footwear. White leather predominates. Ladies' and men's white shoes, both high top and oxfords, will be shown in brilliant array. The latest high-top ladies' boot in four different leathers is shown while the pumps for midday display attractiveness in satin, suede, gun-metal and tan. Wetherby-Kayser's beautiful store at Fourth and Broadway will display in its great length of windows a superb line of ladies' and gentlemen's footwear. The dominant note will be the ladies' boots for dress wear, which were shown in black and brown satin. Pumps are also seen, evidently intended for early fall wear. Tans both in boots and pumps are displayed for street wear, while white buckskin hold an important place. In one portion of the window display a complete line of calfskin boots, and pumps are shown for winter wear.

THE BAKER STORES.

To attempt to describe the display of footwear for every mortal from the baby to the full grown man or woman shown in the windows of C. H. Baker, at No. 623 South Broadway, would be useless. The Baker stores have always gone in for an elaborate display of footwear in the show windows, and for the Fashion Show it seems that every manner of footwear demanded by a human being is displayed in its very latest conceit. There are high-top ladies' shoes in tan, gun-metal, patent and black leathers, and there are pumps in all of the various suedes, buckskins, etc., to make the heart of the wearer glad. Brilliantly-lighted will be the windows of the Walkover store, No. 623 South Broadway. Back of the display of the perfect styles for the season in footwear, in one window, is a great array of oak leaves of those rich colors seen only in the fall. On the other side of the display, deep blue satin is used as a background, to the attractive footwear. The most recent conceits in footwear will be prettily shown, extending from the satin pump, to the high seventeen-button boot of sturdy tan. The Regal Store with its two big windows on Broadway and tending from the minute boot of French design to the high-topped mountain boot. The ladies' shoes shown are for the most part of the seventeen-button variety with a high toe. They are displayed in gun metal, tan and patent leather materials. Black suede, velvet and buckskin are also prominently set forth. The absence of the satin material is noticeable.

GUDE'S.

Gude's two stores, one on Spring and one on Broadway, display a stunning selection of high-top boots for ladies, mostly in suede, velvet and a few in tan, with a row of perforations running around the vamp and over the toe cap. In one window Gude displays a great variety of men's footwear which are principally in gun metal, tan and patent leathers. The shoes for young men are shown mostly by the button styles, while the shoes for the business men come in lace.

NORTON'S.

The display of the Norton Shoe Company at Fifth and Main streets will be the center of attention. The manner in which the latest models and lasts of boots, pumps, heavy high-top shoes, etc., are to be shown will set forth their every advantage.

MEN'S CLOTHING.

Desmond's: A window exhibit of English walking suits and business frock suits, of the latest cut; and another window showing a line of leather goods, of which they make a specialty, together with steamer rugs and rough neck sweaters. Of the many windows showing men's apparel, F. R. Silverwood presents something out of the ordinary. Instead of using turning autumn leaves Indian summer has been made the theme. The windows are divided into twenty-one sections, each section in a scheme of a single color. A panel card done in oil with a shadowy Indian head at the top and the name of the model present the name of an Indian maiden.

MULLEN AND BLUETT.

Mullen and Bluett: It is whispered that something extremely artistic will be revealed in the decoration of the fine windows of this house; in fact art itself will here be shown—there will be oil paintings, from the well known Kanak gallery, which will form the key-note of each setting, each being typical of the articles displayed; for instance, a painting of

Elmer and Company will have a great display of browns, blues and gray heavy worsted material which are arranged in a tasteful manner. With the hundreds of electric lights, every detail of the materials will be brought out. Plaids, and narrow stripes will predominate and will be closely followed by the brown mixtures and blues of the heavy materials.

Charles Levy and Son, in their beautiful store on Spring street, have a stunning offering in the line of the newest English suitings, with a description of how they should be made and cut. There is a wealth of color in their heavier materials. They will be shown in red mixtures, gray greens, blues and stripes in great profusion. One of the particular attractions is an ulster overcoat which has been especially designed by Sam Levy and which won a prize in the New York show. The coat is made seven-eighths length with a pleated back, and the material used is a heavy Saxony cloth with an astrakhan finish.

Webb-Fisher and Company have given over their ample window display to a showing of rough blues, browns and grays in men's suitings. They also will show a splendid line of models of the popular English close fitting business suit. In the windows of Wood Brothers, the merchant tailors at Nos. 343-5 South Broadway, a great many of the three-button English suits will be shown. There also will be a great showing of the rough worsted browns, grays and blues which are so popular this fall and winter. The immense window display space which Wood Brothers have, lends itself admirably to their showing.

BRAUER'S.

A splendid assortment of Georgian suitings will be displayed in the windows of A. K. Brauer & Company in their stores at Nos. 345-7 Spring and the corner of Fifth and Spring streets. There are coral-red, royal-blue, and greenish mixtures shown in profusion and both the old and the young are cared for in the styles shown. There are checks of all patterns and over-plaids that will satisfy the most finicky. Some of the most attractive are the Wedgewood and Kingfisher blues and the browns and tans. R. J. Busch will display a wonderful showing of haberdashery with all of its intimate details in the windows of his store at Second and Broadway. The soft hats made up in the odd shapes seem to be a number this

PARIS FASHIONS FOR FALL

Evening Gowns from Paris

© PARIS

FOR the dinner, the opera and the dance, Parisian modistes have given to lovely womankind on both sides of the water some exquisite models for evening. Naturally, they have excelled their last efforts, for the fall and winter are before us and the wearers must be well dressed. There are some dominant features in the new modes.

The effects depend upon a richness of material. "Velour faconne," a combination of satin and velvet, and brocade satin are materials favored by Atuyer, Bianchini and Ferier. Mousseline de soie with a double border in gold and silver is another novelty. Old rose, black, sky blue, green and old gold are trimmed with gold embroidery; on apricot yellow, violet, gray, white or old blue, silver embroidery is used in the decoration.

The two colors favored by the designers are "vert mousse," a soft shade of green, and "vieux or," old gold. Filmy materials in lovely color combinations will be used extensively. Lace flounces, with little fullness, will be the mode, recalling the styles of 1860.

At the left there stands a figure exploiting apricot trepe de chine trimmed with lace embroidered with silver. An antique buckle fastens the front of the quaintly shaped fichu that drops in straight lines at the side. From the slightly raised girdle the folds of the skirt drop in full lines, which are draped at one side.

Seated beside her is a lovely gown of bleu de roi and gold brocade. Plain blue satin forms the underskirt, and the bodice is formed of white tulle placed in a fichu line over a chemisette of lace. Bands of ermine give the finishing touch of richness to the gown that depends greatly upon the gorgeous fabrics used in its making.

A young girl's evening frock is shown. White tulle over white satin is reminiscent of grandmother's days. Lace is gathered in a graduated ruffle over the shoulders, with narrow pleatings of lace between the fichu lines. On the skirt, straight but full, are ruffles of lace draped in graceful lines. Satin or velvet bows hold the lace at different points.

Fringe is the trimming par excellence this fall. It is shown in the model with the short tunic of net embroidered in crystal beads and edged with fringe. The crossed bodice is also edged with fringe, and the sleeves are finished with the same graceful trimming.

Black and white are combined in the evening costume shown at the right. White lace is the robe de soir, over which is a soft lace wrap over white satin. Black velvet forms the theater cap, on which are ospreys in white; white chiffon roses edge the brim.

The Paquin model of an evening gown is in "Bordeaux clair," or light wine color, and the popular mousseline de soie is used. Embroidery in beads is used on the short tunic, which is held up on the bodice with a satin bow. The chiffon drapery ends at the back in a straight tab edged with beads. The long skirt shows silk and bead embroidery, and a square court train follows this gown to victory.

A new evening wrap is shown. It is of white veiled with rose chiffon, and recalls the dashing cavalier's cape. Embroidery in gold is used to decorate the top and to edge the cape. A gold cord has been used by Mme. Paquin to fasten the exquisite model.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF MERRY FASHION FETE.

BY R. A. WYNNE.

no longer big; that is sideways. They are piled high in the air and kicked over to one side at the top. The dress hats are still wide of rim but joyfully I saw that there are no feathers protruding sideways, to tickle your ears when you talk confidentially to a lady. The feathers are all kept within the rim of the hat. They are not nearly so big as I saw a year ago, and seem to be persuaded to stick close to the crown.

The greatest change is in the street hats. They are heavy as a rule and resemble the men's Tyrolean hats that were aced by returning European travelers one year ago. They are much higher, and one stunning contraption looked like a tall silk hat that some thoughtless person had stepped on forcing the upper half of the crown to one side.

I was fascinated by one really great hat. I saw it nestled on a little table. It was dark blue, high-crowned affair, and right in front of it was a yellow rose. Think of it a yellow rose on a dark blue background. The great man who had dared to do this had carefully slipped back of the yellow rose a long peacock feather, which had the wonderful blend of blue through green to yellow—and, lo, and behold, the ensemble was good!

In another great store I firmly determined to see the street dresses that mildly will wear. I discovered them jealously guarded in a small room away from the madding throng. They are heavy and rough in texture, and some of them even fuzzy. Many of them resemble the Norfolk jackets worn by the summer men of Southern California. Several corduroy ones were petted favorites of the establishments. They are white-corduroy, made in the Norfolk jacket style, and very short in the skirt.

Up and down the great highway of shops with their curtained windows and air of secrecy I had wandered until I saw scarlet, where it should have been blue. I became muddled when I saw the colors of the rainbow taken by a bold hand and slapped together in strange ways, and marveled that they seemed to fit.

When the gray curtains that have hidden the secrets of the great shops for the last few days are taken down tonight there will be a burst of color that will make Broadway look like a long section of the rainbow.

Then you will realize how the art and fashion centers of the world have been fished of their greatest creations and brought to Los Angeles.

NO PLACE FOR GRANDMOTHER.

Modern Theories Have Crowded Out the Old-Time Attention Given to Babies.

Happy in having placed the fathers under control, the next great step taken by the promoters of the automatic baby was the formation of the Society for the Suppression of Grandmothers, according to Elia Parker Butler, in Success Magazine. The grandmother is the greatest enemy of the sterilized, unrocked, unclashed, uncradled baby. The adamant stubbornness of a grandmother is almost beyond belief. She will kiss the child! Regardless of germs, microbes, influenza and rules, she will take the little cuddly thing in her arms, hug it up tight with cooling words, and kiss it. Right on the mouth, too!

The members of the society had to be exceedingly firm with the grandmothers. "Mother," the member would say "please do not kiss that child on the mouth." "Very well! Very well!" the grandmother would say, just a little huffed. "But I am sure, my dear, I kissed your children for the season's enjoyment."

Sale of Autumn's Newest Tailored Suits and Coats $25 Sizes for Misses and Women Also Extra Large Sizes for Stout Women

In past seasons we have featured coats and suits at $25.00, believing that we were offering the best values on the Pacific Coast for that price. In making our plans for this season's business we have combined the purchasing power of Hale's six California stores, and concentrated every effort to secure the best garments to retail at $25.00 that have ever been shown in California. Success has crowned our efforts, as the collection of ultra-fashionable coats and suits featured at this price will demonstrate. Every popular, practical and serviceable cloth is represented. Every wanted color will be found, and every accepted model is in the assortment. Aside from the sizes for misses, young women, and women not so young, we have a lot of special sizes made for stout women, who usually encounter great difficulty in being fitted. The assortment is at its best now.

The Best Ready-to-Wear Hats $5.00 In Los Angeles at the Price

Hats that possess character, style, tone, and individuality. Shapes that are new, trimmings that are recent and correct, materials much better than you would expect to find on hats at the price of $5. All of the new hood effects as well as the collection of both the larger and the smaller shapes. Tailored and trimmed hats that will harmonize, blend or contrast with any coat or gown. Plenty of blacks, plenty of whites, and every wanted color, including the scarce purples and greens. Hats that represent standard values at $5.50 and up to $10. It's our tremendous buying power that enables us to offer these at $5.00. The assortment is at its very best NOW.

Hale's Incomparable Trim'd Hats $10 No Better Values in Town at $15 & $20

Trimmed hats at $10 have always been a hobby in our millinery section. We aim to provide the best $10 hat that the market affords, and then improve on it. This season we have outdone all previous efforts and outclassed any attempt at value-giving by this or any store in the west. Representative and authentic styles from the best known trade milliners in America. Direct copies of Parisian models conceived by the world's highest-priced milliners. Many individual and exclusive styles, only one of a kind and color. Hats suitable for any and every occasion that you will readily recognize as $15 and $20 values. Another of Hale's strong leaders at $10.

Distinction in Clothes

SHOULD be a matter for thoughtful consideration with every man, young or old. Individuality in dress is an essential feature not to be overlooked, for, while clothes do not make the man, it's of grave importance that his apparel should proclaim a refined taste to meet the keen, exacting criticism of his fellow men.

Our Fall Suits and Overcoats have all the elements of distinction and refinement, correctness in style, perfection of fit, models especially designed to satisfy the varied tastes of our patrons, and priced to meet the demands of all.

crown is trimmed with white aigrettes that mount in snowy height at the back.

Fur, you will observe, is favored for little bonnets. The Lewis model is of otter, built on a small frame and trimmed with a band of ribbon embroidered in different colors that hint of the fall.

Another toque on the right shows the combination of taupe velvet and mink. The folds of the brim are continued up into the high crown, ending in a loop. Two rosettes of velvet are edged with fur and placed at the side.

Last is shown a model by Marescot. It is for evening wear and is of black velvet lined with white. Graceful plumes encircle the crown and mount at the front. The effect is lovely and the model is one of the favorites for formal occasions.

The millinery way is a path that leads to beauty. These signposts point out the features that show the latest changes in chapeaux.

Up in the corner a small hat in green velvet with a turned brim shows a high crown made higher by wings in tones of violet and green. Violet satin ribbon is used to give the wide band and a pleated wing at the side.

The little toque of black velvet shows the vogue for black and white. The trimming is of white swansdown placed around the close-fitting crown and edging the bow at the neck.

Facing her is another little hood or bonnet of white velvet. Lewis has edged this one with a band of skunk fur and a wreath of silk leaves and flowers.

At the right is a mushroom type exploited by Marescot. It is of tulle taffeta, which is used for the puffed brim and the high, puffed crown. A band of velvet is held around the crown by a huge silk rose at the side. This is particularly good for a young girl.

Miniggio has shown a large chapeau in black velvet. The brim is turned up and edged with skunk fur, and the top of the

What Paris Sanctions is Presented In These New Tailored Suits

Cable advices announce, "coats longer and skirts a little wider. Blue in variety of shades, navy the favorite."

These cables put the stamp of accuracy upon the styles shown in this suit department.

Each and every garment is graced with an individuality of style-handling, taking it far above the mediocre, irrespective of price.

Laces Imported Direct from Europe

We have just opened and are showing for the first time our magnificent assemblage of new laces for the fall gown—direct importations of our buyer's careful selections while in Europe. The showing reveals to our patrons the cream of the world's finest productions for the fall and winter seasons. Endless artistic effects will be noticed in Venice, Oriental, Chantilly, Fillet, Maline Laces, Shadow Laces, Princess, real Irish, real Venice, Rose Point, Point Applique, real Vals.—in fact, all kinds of laces, both real and imitation, in Edges, Bands, Insertions, Allover, Motifs, etc., and Gold and Silver Nets, 45-inch Shadow Nets, La Tosca Nets, all colors, Fancy Nets of all kinds—each kind selected for its extraordinary beauty.

We wish to call particular attention to our enormous assortment of real hand-made Venise lace neckwear, as well as the laces by the yard.

Best quality chiffon, chiffon cloths and marquisettes in every conceivable shade.

Exclusive Silks

Exceptionally rich fabrics direct from the French looms, many of them in single-pattern lengths which are confined to us for the Pacific Southwest—so their wearers are assured of absolute exclusiveness.

Included are—
Double-faced Satin Chini-black on one side, the other in solid colors, black and white stripes, or rich Dresden stripes.
Double-faced Faille Satins.
Shepherd checked Surahs.
Satin Riviera in 30 of the latest shades.

(Center Aisle)

Ribbons

The new season's styles in ribbons are radically different from anything shown heretofore. Some of the most striking novelties:

Velvets with imitation ermine edges.
Two-tone plaids in royal purples and coronation blues.
Two-tone Ottoman and Polka Dot Ottomans.
Double faced ribbons—one side black, the other in color.

Sumptuously Rich Evening Gowns From Famous Foreign Designers

Understandable descriptions are out of the question—these master-pieces of the gown-maker's art simply cannot be pictured in color type, nor by pen-and-ink drawings.

Imported models in crepe chiffons, gold brocades, meteors, velvet brocaded meteors, satin majestica, macromies, etc., artistically trimmed with rich laces, among which may be mentioned Point Venise, Point Liere, Gold Macromie and Rose Point.

The colorings now in highest favor abroad are—midnight blue, black, caïro coral, primrose, fawn, cornflower, blue, sulphur and emerald.

Trimmings

Easily the most gorgeously beautiful assemblage of these goods ever displayed in Los Angeles.

Just opened our direct importation of the trimmings for the fall and winter season in point of beauty and elegance we are justified in declaring them superior to any previously shown. Everything needed for the gown can be supplied from this vast assortment representing the cream of the European market in both exquisitely dainty and lavishly rich effects.

PANAMA CANAL PROJECTS.

Foreign Steamship Officials Are Already Seeking Openings for Pacific Coast Trade.

(London Financial Times.) In view of the expected opening of the Panama Canal to traffic at the beginning of 1915, shipping companies, both here and in the United States, are already planning an extension of business. On the other side numerous lines have been established to maintain services on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with ports in the Republic of Panama, and the idea appears to be to have others in operation for the purpose of building up a settled trade, so that every advantage may be taken of the waterway when completed.

So far as European steamship enterprise is concerned, an agent of the Harland company was recently on a visit to Vancouver seeking new trade openings on the Pacific Coast, while the Hamburg-American line is understood to be in treaty for accommodation at San Francisco. The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, which already has warehouses at Colon, on the northern side of the isthmus, is having steamers built to cope with the expected increase in traffic to Chile and Peru. At present the company has vessels running down both sides of the South American coast, and makes great use of the Panama and Trans-Andean railways. The Harland and Leyland lines also contemplate developments in this direction. Then, again, Bristol is in the field, and the chairman of the Docks Committee undertook a mission to San Francisco not many weeks ago, and it is said, has made arrangements for a monthly service from Avonmouth and other Western English ports, via the canal.

"LIFERS" SURPRISED.

Four Indians Prisoners Astonished by Scenes Witnessed During Automobile Ride.

(Indianapolis News.) E. J. Fogarty, warden of the State Prison, called to see Gov. Marshall, related a story of an automobile ride of ten miles he recently gave to four inmates of the prison whose aggregate term of imprisonment thus far has been 105 years. One had served forty years, one thirty-five years, one seventeen years, and one thirteen years. All were "lifers."

The ride was from Michigan City to Laporte, where two of the prisoners saw for the first time trolley cars, and many other signs of modern achievement, hidden to them by the prison walls.

So great was the surprise to the prisoners, the warden said, that two of them collapsed from nervous excitement. One of the prisoners was William E. Hinshaw, who is said to be in a precarious condition because of failing health.

Employment for Prisoners.

(Hartford Times.) It is evident that the idea of making prisoners earn their keep is being more generally accepted. It was proposed many years ago and a good deal of time has been spent in trying to make the public understand the folly of assuming that because a man commits an offense which sends him to prison or to the county jail he should immediately be relieved of the obligation of supporting himself. Most such men are able-bodied and can do work enough to maintain themselves and leave a surplus to be divided with their families, if they have families, and leave a portion to be theirs when their living they should. That can hardly be denied by any reasonable man who shakes off the influence of tradition and looks at things as they

Autumn Exhibit

and Los Angeles' Fashion Show

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, September 21, 22, 23, 1911.
The greatest in all our history. A most interesting and highly instructive Fashion Exhibit, to which everyone is cordially invited.

THIS semi-annual event has taken its place as the premier style classic of America, and rightly so, for every variation of the accredited new Autumn Modes by the most renowned of the foreign and home designers is on display. The Fashion Marts of Europe and this country have been ransacked and stripped of their choicest and most artistic productions so that the resulting ensemble, as a gathering of the quintessence of the world's smartest dress achievements, will be entirely worthy of the women of Southern California.

Great Fashion Show Offering—Original Imported Models—Man-Tailored Suits and Long Coats . . . $33.50

Had we imported these Suits and Coats direct, instead of being favored by New York's most noted importer with his entire importation of original Paris styles, we feel safe in saying that you could not purchase them for less than from $90.00 to $150.00.

Models from such famous makers as the following:
"Bernard," "Callot Soeurs," "Templar," "Rondeau,"
"Francis," "Lafayette," "Doucette," "Felix Brenitte,"
"Strelitz-E-Soldin."

MATERIALS include finest Chiffon Broadcloths, Serges, Cheviots and Man's wear materials in the newest Fall shadings, and there are many unfamiliar but charming foreign models to select from. We have added to this remarkable offering a rich group of high-class tailored Suits and Dresses from several of New York's best-known makers. The entire collection during the Fashion Show at one price, $33.50.

Fashion Show Offering Chiffon Waists, worth to $18.50, for $5.50
EXQUISITE new Fall styles made with either Dutch or high necks—some elaborately embroidered, others made over blouses; all daintily lined. Kimono sleeves. Colors include Navy, Pink, Copenhagen Blue, Black and White, etc. The entire shipment, values to $18.50, during the Fashion Show, at choice $5.50.

Fashion Show offering Millinery
Superbly Beautiful
Ostrich Trimmed
Picture Hats. Price $16.50

The majority of these stunning creations would be considered unusually good value at $25.00, while many possess fashion features seldom associated with hats selling for less than $35.00.

CHARMING picturesque hats of finest Black Silk Velvet, made over the best hand-made French frames, either welt or the new turned cigarette edge. Each hat adorned with three or four large, male stock, French head plumes, or with gorgeous ostrich bands. This offering we recommend to all women of taste and discrimination in millinery as eclipsing in elaborateness and value anything that has ever gone before.

WARDROBE
The body of the reversible long coat, the outside is generally of plain color, while the reverse side is of gay plaid or a bright contrasting tone. Such garments really take the place of another costume, for, made as they are of soft, warm material, they have just enough weight for cool weather until frost autumn days arrive. The smartest of these coats are the plainest, where the big collar falls over the shoulder in a sort of cape-like hood, and the big sleeves are made to be turned back. All that one requires to make any outdoor occasion is a pretty blouse or neckpiece that covers one as far as the bust.

The low neck has reached such a vogue and, withal, such favor, for reason of its comfort and as of a high collar is used it is made of the lightest of transparencies that gives the wearer the appearance of being collarless. And to exaggerate the line of the low neck all sorts of little bands, narrow cravat effects, and scarfs are employed. Some of the daintiest ones are finished with clusters of little flowers made of satin, and looking so natural that one is easily deceived by them. The odd little fancy for wearing a massive necklace under the gauze yoke continues to hold favor with a good many fashionably dressed women. Often large brilliant are mounted in heavy gold incrustations, and the more elaborate the ornament the better is the effect through the transparency.

The marabout neckpiece, muff, bag and fan are strong features in the up-to-date wardrobe for early fall. The feathers in such superb sets are preferably gray, shaded to almost white at the tips. Neckpieces are shaped variously to accommodate different figures where long and short lines are necessary assets, but the muffs are all large and round. Bags are in different styles with both long and short handles; usually of soft gray leather effects is the unusually large cluster of ostrich tip feathers in all the natural tones of gray to the original brownish-gray of the natural feather. As every one knows, gray is to be one of the lead-or not the shad is becoming the smart woman is going to have at least one gray outfit in her wardrobe.

For ultra afternoon wear there is nothing quite so smart as the handsomely embroidered volles. The work is executed in coarse wool and is heavily padded to make it stand out. Such novelties in moving styles are apt to be capricious, for the reason that they are spectacular and people tire of them quickly. However, all kinds of heavy wool work is threatening to make a decided impression throughout the approaching season.

FROM RANCH TO GOVERNOR.
Career of the Next Governor of Mississippi Shows What a Young Man Can Do.
(St. Louis Globe Democrat.) The life history of Earl Brewer, recently nominated for Governor of Mississippi by the Democrats of that State, is an inspiration to every American boy and shows the possibilities a young man has in this country if his principles are right. The prospective Governor was reared in poverty and in his youth worked as a farmhand in a levee camp, was a brakeman and fireman on a railroad and for several years a cowboy in Texas. He had an ambition to be a locomotive engineer, but while he was working as a fireman in preparation for a job at the throttle there was a strike on the railroad. He belonged to the union and went out with the others. Then he was discharged and gave up the idea of becoming an engineer.

When Brewer was 12 years old his father died and left the family in debt. It was up to the next Governor, who was the oldest of the children, to take his father's place as head of the family, and he worked hard to keep things going and to pay off his father's debts. Some of these were outlawed by the statute of limitations and could not be collected, but the boy did not regard these as any different from other claims and paid them all.

The family farm was 160 acres in the sand hills, and, in addition to looking after this, the young man worked picking cotton or in a levee camp when he could be spared from the farm.

When he went to Texas to work on a cattle range, the home place did not prosper, and, on his return he found an accumulation of debts. Once more he figured up how much the family owed and started in to earn the money and pay the debts.

Then he decided to study law, and with earned money, he paid his expenses part way through his studies. When it looked as if he would have to quit school and go to work again to get the money to pay his expenses, the law firm of Hawkins and McCombs of Valdez, Miss., came to his aid with a loan sufficient to carry him through.

Then he opened a law office at Water Valley with a kitchen and two chairs for furniture and a law library of one volume, the code of Mississippi. From that time on his professional career has been a success. He began winning his cases and making friends.

tion "Should a woman live alone?" The preponderance of the female population in the city makes the problem of serious consequence.

"There is danger in women living alone, for nine out of ten of them grow morose and bitter against fate," stated a well-known writer, who advised that a lonely woman should share her rooms with another woman of her own age and similar experience.

A superintendent of a large block of flats in the west end of London, with much experience of flats occupied by bachelor women, would advise no woman to live alone.

"If I had a daughter," he said, "I should very much prefer that she shared a flat with a young woman of her own age and similar experience. I certainly think that women living alone become morose. In a sense, they lose caste, for they lose conversational power and also a certain amount of respect for themselves."

"It needs a wonderfully sunny nature to exist in a flat alone and be cheerful for if anyone spends many hours alone every trifling worry is thought over and magnified."

A well-known soprano vocalist of a happy disposition who occupies a flat to herself said she considered a woman could be perfectly contented alone providing she had plenty of work to do.

PARIS FASHIONS FOR FALL

Parisian Afternoon Dresses

Afternoon gown in tulle, with deep lace ruffle. Tunic in changeable green and yellow mousseline de soie. Model by Drecoll.

and there is a perceptible lowering of the waist line, albeit the majority of models have a slightly raised line at the waist, in modified empire effect. Contrast in trimming is also a strong note, for, mark you, the Parisienne adores sharp contrasts; in proof of which fur is used with lace, heavy embroidery on chiffon, tulle and brocades.

Sapphire blue velvet is used in the first model. A vest of white broadcloth is embroidered in a large floral design in shaded blue floss and dull silver thread. The little yoke and collar, cut in one, are of pink tulle, while the girdle is of silver ribbon, held in place by a silver rose. A scarf and bow of ermine trim the picture hat of black velvet.

Tiny crocheted buttons trim the deep revers which is seen on one side of the model gown of black charmeuse. Again the buttons are seen on the tunic, which opens to the waist line on the skirt. The left side of the bodice is trimmed with deep cream-colored lace. This is also used for the long cuffs. The pointed vest and collar are of tulle. The dainty little hat of fine French felt has an upstanding aigrette on the left side.

White satin, chantilly lace and ermine combine to make the elaborate afternoon costume in the next cut. A plain, modified empire frock of satin, buttoned from neck to hem with satin-covered buttons, has an overdress, or coat, of black chantilly, which is bordered with broad bands of ermine.

Cuffs of ermine finish the half-length sleeves. The hat, a black velvet model, is faced with white-and-gold brocade and trimmed with one very full willow plume, which stands high on one side, the fronds falling in beautiful confusion over the brim.

The gown of a belle of 1860 is copied (with slight variations) in the next model. Narrow ruchings, a new note, are seen on the fichu and skirt. Pale rose-colored embroidery is used in profusion and is delightfully girlish on the creamy mousseline de soie. The undersleeves are of fine net, which is also folded in the V-shaped neck.

The vogue for fringe is emphasized on the model of black charmeuse, which has deep, shawl-like revers edged with it. A draped tunic is likewise bordered with fringe.

Cream-colored lace is crossed over the bust and also in the back for a vest effect, while flesh-colored maline is used for the yoke and high collar.

The hat of black has its crown completely hidden beneath cluster of black aigrettes, and the drooping brim has a narrow border of soft silk fringe.

Drecoll sends us an elaborate model of white tulle having the lower half of the skirt made of heavy lace.

This, in turn, shows a sounce of fine thread lace and a footing of fringe. The tunic and bodice drapery are of changeable green-and-gold mousseline de soie embroidered with gold thread. The high collar and yoke are of tulle.

Black mousseline and blue armure de soie go to make up the model by Martha Wingrove. In this the sleeve and wrapped tunic are cut in one and draped over the underdress of blue. Buttons and simulated buttonholes of blue satin are used as trimming. The undersleeves and collar are of princess lace.

This model shows a decided French neck, long on the shoulders and high front and back. This is another "straw" which shows the direction of the "wind" of fashion that marks the abolishment of the Dutch neck.

In choosing an afternoon frock one cannot go wrong if any one of these models be copied

The Fall Fashion Show—An Exhibition of Authoritative Autumn and Winter Models at

Lane's
327-29 S. BROADWAY

Garments and Hats Sketched Directly from Our Own Models

Tomorrow ushers in the Fashion Show—an occasion which delights the feminine hearts of not only Los Angeles but all Southern California. In anticipation of this event we have prepared as never before to contribute our share of desirable and decidedly attractive Fall goods.

Merchandise embodying the latest style changes from the moderate to the more pronounced will be arranged to the best advantage in the various sections. Interest will naturally center in our display of

Costumes, Coats, Tailored Suits, Furs

And other wearables for women, misses and children in our newly refitted big Second Floor Section.

On the Third Floor the spacious new

Millinery Department

will reveal a collection of "charming millinery" in all that this broad term implies.

In addition there are displays of Corsets, Lingerie, Hosiery, Gloves, Silks and Trimmings, Laces and Ribbons, as well as the latest effects in Men's Toggery.

In each the collection is distinctively exclusive and comprehensive of all that is authoritative.

We extend a cordial invitation for you to attend.

pure Sheraton and Chippendale. A Louis XVI set in French gray and white is also shown. Each group is handsomely offset by drapery stuffs to correspond with the period represented.

Pense Brothers exhibit a choice collection of high-class furniture for which their house is so well known. In one window will be seen a dining-room set in Sheraton. Another window will exhibit a bedroom suite of the Marie Antoinette period, in French gray enamel. These suites afford fine examples of the period styles, at present so very popular.

Levon, McKinney & Smith will present a picture of the furnishings of the home, framed in an original way. Barker Brothers will make a great showing, in their sixteen Broadway windows, of especially artistic arrangements of the special furniture of their house. During the three afternoons of the Fashion Show, there will be free recitals, in the newly-opened piano rooms of this house, with Mrs. Adeline Tromben Lebe-gott, leading soprano soloist of the Lombardi Opera Company, assisted by prominent local artists.

Mackey-Foley present massive furniture in turned oak, and craftsman style. In the big windows of the Los Angeles Furniture store, two styles of furniture will be shown. In one window a reproduction of the famous Sheraton style of furniture with its beautiful lines and superb finish. In the other, a reproduction of Colonial mahogany, with a deep blue upholstery. Both are charming. One of the points of interest in the big store will be the model bungalow that has been erected in the rear part of the second floor. It is a four-room affair and shows in every detail how a bungalow should be furnished at a moderate cost.

ON BROADWAY.
Jewels—Handsome offerings of their high-class goods, tastefully arranged. The store will be handsomely decorated throughout.

Sing Fat—Broadway windows, superb oriental silks and rich embroidery. Hill street windows, rare bric-a-brac.

The Yamato—Velvet windows hold a surprise, composed in clever Japanese fashion, such as they alone command. The pretty wares displayed here almost claim the attention of the crowds.

Beaman & Hendee—Windows beautiful with their attractive wares in baby blue and white. Yarns, basin-goods, embroidery, art goods and all kinds of dolls; children's clothes, and boys and bonnets, all handsomely arranged.

Newcomb's Corset Shop—Is new

throughout, a most luxurious place, where the latest thing in corsets is always to be found; and corsets, now, are handsome—in satin silk and lace. Goodyear Rubber Company.—A display not alone of raincoats, but of motor coats as well, showing many excellent reversibles, with shoulder bags to match.

Parmelee-Dohrmann—Examples of fine dinner sets, and a table set with imported china, Bohemian glass and artistic center pieces of imported ware.

Volmer-Jansen — English dinner ware, and handsome bric-a-brac of Dresden and Copenhagen.

MID-OCEAN TELEPHONE.
Invention Which Makes Conversation Possible Between Ships Through the Water.
[London Daily Mirror:] Talking through the water from one ship to another has become possible by means of an improved wireless telephone, invented by A. W. Sharman, with which he expects to be able to replace the ordinary submarine bell signals.

Bells sounded under the sea are at present in use on all large liners, the sounds being picked up on other vessels by means of a special form of telephone.

The wireless telephone with which people will talk through the sea is different from the ordinary wireless telegraph which transmits signals through the water.

Far simpler and less costly, and requiring no skill to operate, Sharman's telephone can be fitted up in any vessel, however small, at the cost of a few pounds, and provides a means of conversation by wireless.

PRICE OF ELEPHANTS GOING UP.
Siamese Are Breeding Less Number of Domesticated Animals—Number of Wild Ones Unknown.
Roughly estimated, the number of domesticated elephants in Siam is about 3000. The supply has been decreasing yearly and prices have advanced until now a full-grown male timber elephant is worth about $2300 and a female $1600, says Vice-Consul General Carl C. Hansen, at Bangkok.

Travel in northern Siam, especially during the rainy season, would be the teakwood industry. An elephant and he is used to great advantage in the teak-wood industry. An elephant is full grown at twenty-five years, but not in full vigor until thirty-five. The length of life is eighty to 150 years and the average weight is about three tons.

In Siam the elephant carries only two hundred and fifty to five hundred and fifty pounds, according to the size of the animal.

No estimate can be made of the number of wild elephants in the jungles of Siam, but in one of the elephant "drives" in the Ayutthya district recently more than two hundred were seen at one time. These drives are held yearly in the various districts of Ayutthya in which great numbers of the animals are driven into a stockade. The finest specimens are then captured and later tamed and trained for domestic use.

The district of Ayutthya is famous for its "drives" and the king usually attends when large events are arranged for. Permission to capture wild elephants may be obtained from the Siamese government, and for each animal caught a royalty of $150 is paid, but such capture is exceedingly difficult and expensive and the animal often dies before it is properly trained.

International Telephones.

[New York Sun:] The Italian Parliament has passed recently a bill authorizing the establishment of telephone lines from Milan to Berlin by way of Zurich, Basel and Frankfurt. The proposal has not yet been ratified by the German and Swiss authorities, but their approval is understood to be a foregone conclusion.

Neither railroads nor high roads are to be followed in constructing the lines, but they may go through the Simpson tunnel. The construction of the lines, which is scheduled for next year, is said to be one of the greatest works of its kind ever undertaken in Europe.

A cordial invitation is extended to visit our store, which is the largest and best model of black Ch... and coin gold thread... from Jacob's...

Los Angeles
Fashion Show

Thursday—Friday—Saturday
September 21, 22, 23

All Southern California Invite To This Comprehensive Showing of The NEW

THE beauty and charm of the NEW in autumn apparel strikingly set forth in this great display to which we invite you tomorrow. A display that surpasses anything heretofore attempted by the 5th St. Store and is unrivaled in Los Angeles as an intelligent, rightly priced presentation of the modes that are to prevail in women's apparel for Fall and Winter, 1911-12. Throughout the store Fashion is enthroned. In every department you will find the latest ideas for Fall. Never has the 5th St. Store been so ably equipped to serve you.

No woman who can should miss being here one of the three days of this great Fashion Show, as a personal inspection will convey as nothing else can, correct information as to what is really to be worn in women's attire this season.

Tailored Suits at $10 to $40

WE wish to emphasize particularly the extent and variety of our vast assortment of tailored suits. In completeness of style, quality of materials and workmanship and value at the prices it is without a peer in this city. Nothing has been omitted that would add to its completeness in suits at $10 to $40.

Women's Long Coats

NEVER has there been a season when women's coats have combined so much beauty, style and comfort. Rarely, if ever, have they been as smart or becoming, or were shown in a greater variety of handsome styles. And this stock that we invite you to see tomorrow includes every whim and thought of fashion. Prices from $10 to $35.

Women's Dresses

VARIED indeed are the new modes that are to hold dominion in the realm of dress this season. Varied, too, are the materials and the colors. Surely, no woman can fail to find a style that is becoming or a color to suit her tastes. Prices $10 to $200.

Our Millinery Department

HERE, indeed, the hand of Fashion has wrought with magic art. Millinery always commands the greatest interest and never did it so richly deserve it as this season. From the quaint, new bonnets with their many angles and color combinations, on through the medium and larger shapes illustrating hundreds of new styles, you will find the Fifth Street Store with their many angles and color comprehensive. The styles themselves being nothing less than wonderful, as illustrating the creative genius of the millinery designers.

Silks and Dress Goods, Laces, Trimmings, Embroideries, Shoes, Hosiery, Gloves, Neckwear are Included in This Great Autumn Exhibit.

Tomorrow will not only be a big Display Day, but a big Sale Day as well. The prices on many lines being unusual indeed.

2000 Sachet Souvenirs Free Wednesday, First Day Fashion Show

Be sure you ask for one of these pretty sachet souvenirs. They are sweetly perfumed and you may have choice of carnation, Lily-of-the-Valley and violets. One will be given to each customer making a purchase in our millinery or suit department tomorrow.

FASHIONS AND FADS.

BY MAUD E. CILLEY.

As last year or slightly longer and still be reasonably well within the fashion. New evening gowns shown in the most exclusive shops are extremely rich, the materials brought out showing patterns in metallic threads, embossed velvet designs, sombre shades and rich East Indian colors. Many new waists are finished at the waistline with wide crushed girdles. Trimmings are applied to some, such as small buttons, lace motifs and metallic braid. They are usually made overlap at the back with a fancy ornament finish. Some of the latest suits have wool embroidery applied to the skirt as well as the coats. The broad velvet collars have elaborate wool embroidery which nearly covers the velvet, this elaboration also being introduced on the revers and cuffs in more simple designs, representing braided patterns. Notwithstanding the long reign of black-and-white and white-and-black, these combinations will undoubtedly remain unchanged and it is even predicted that they will survive the fashion of autumn and winter and triumph in the spring. This information comes from leading manufacturers. A silk and linen season is passing and in its wake will follow a season that will see satin on the crest of the wave of popularity. On some of the fine new evening gowns fur appears on tunic, skirt edge and waist and is shown in contrasting color to the dress. Ecru mousseline velle, black silk or satin. This vies with white chiffon or satin over black for evening and formal afternoon wear. Roman stripes have been added to the novelty list, and auto scarves with double borders, are used to some extent for separate blouses. Men's fall and winter fashions contemplate padded shoulders, narrow trousers and a general slender effect, insofar as it can be accomplished. Trimming in one-sided effects is much seen in every direction, in fact, there is a general fashion tendency toward a chic one-sidedness. Semi-tailored waists are made in both three-quarter and full lengths and these waists show a preference for a finish half way from the elbow to the wrist. The skirt model attracting most attention just now is a high-waisted narrow garment, ornamented with one or two lines of buttons from waist-line to hem in front. The coming of autumn sees a general adoption of light-weight materials and veiled costumes for housewears, and of heavier-than-usual-garments for outer garments. The present call for millinery trimmings leans strongly toward the simpler trimmings that are adapted for use on the semi-undressed hats that the fall styles permit. Long tunic effects are much to be seen in new separate skirts, while the pleated insects at the seams give more fullness when an extremely conservative model is required. Good, old-fashioned hand-made torchon lace has been revived for the trimming of lingerie. It is a durable, serviceable lace that never should have gone out of fashion. Fancy millinery novelties are long ostrich quills in black, green or purple. Peacock feathers in quills and aigrette fancies are suddenly quite popular for the trimming of small hats.

big labor and chemical cost. But this process was and is carried out under a great handicap. It has to be operated in a temperature not exceeding 36 deg. Fahrenheit, almost freezing point. So that even the saving in labor and chemicals was nearly all eaten up by the cost of refrigerat-ing the plant, and the acute climatic conditions under which the workers were forced to labor. Yet, in spite of all these disadvantages, the operating company has made, and still continues to make, enormous profits, averaging up to annual dividends of 40 per cent.

Two years ago several American scientists, headed by Henry Bernstein, who has often acted as government expert, began to figure that it ought to be possible to produce silk by the cupra-ammonium process and at the same time, do away with the necessity for working at a temperature of 36 deg. Fahrenheit, and at the same time discover chemicals that could be recovered and re-used, and which would strengthen the silken fiber and render it immune to the effects of damages. He figured that if it could approximate the method of the silk worm the more perfect would be the ultimate result.

The process discovered by Mr. Ber-stein and his associates reproduces the natural action of the silk worm as closely as nature, chemistry and human ingenuity will allow. There is absolutely no danger in manipulating the chemicals. The method is virtually non-inflammable and non-explosive as compared with the "gun-cotton" process. Denitrification is eliminated entirely and there is no waste of highly expensive chemicals. In fact, all the chemicals are recovered and re-used representing a saving of at least 50 per cent. in labor and chemical cost, alone. There is no danger of the thread being weakened by this process; in fact, it is rather strengthened than otherwise. This new process is a vast improvement upon the old cupra-ammonium cold process. It is very simple, so simple, in fact, that about 60 per cent. of the labor in operation is automatic, its very simplicity and naturalness in following the method of the silk worm has earned for it the valuable name (in some quarters of the textile trade) of the "artificial silk worm."

The London Times recently said that the increase in the manufacture of artificial silk has been so great that the French government, realizing its wonderful importance, has granted state aid to the industry through the medium of duty exemption on raw materials, etc. The American Artificial Silk Manufacturing Company anticipates that its yarn can be manufactured and sold to the trade cheaper than any other artificial silk on the market. The yarn is at present being used in Philadelphia, by silk piece goods weavers, broad goods weavers
of silk and cotton, ribbons weavers, makers of table covers, manufacturers
of ladies' belts, laces and embroideries, manufacturers of plush goods, upholstery, trimmings, silk braids, etc.,
and it is the opinion of these users
that this company will eventually supply practically the whole of the home demand for artificial silk. The officers of the company therefore look forward to achieving a speedy growth for their industry and if the viewpoint of the French government and the statements of the United States Consul at Lyons is any criterion, the future of the industry is assured.

The Long Hatpin.

[Philadelphia Inquirer.] While most legislation aimed at the dangerous hatpin was considered somewhat of a joke, a number of recent accidents that have been caused by the long steel points show that it was entitled to more serious consideration.
The latest recorded incident of the kind occurred a few days ago in San Francisco, when an actor on a crowded car was pierced through the eye
by one, and has, it is reported, lost his sight.

Such an accident is likely to occur at any time and to anyone. Men are now careful in crowded public places where there are any number of women to observe whether they are endangered by one of these pins, but a sudden turn, a jar in a trolley car, or any other quick move is likely to put anyone in jeopardy wherever there is one of these vicious-looking implements protruding five or six inches beyond the building line of the hat itself.

More legislation seems to have had little effect in putting an end to the practice of wearing them, but it does seem that women themselves, recognizing their danger, ought to be willing to give them up voluntarily. Their obstinacy in the matter may at any time be the cause of keen individual regret.

Iowa's Superabundant Mud.

[Boston Transcript.] The cleanly Iowans notice a mad superabundance of mud in their State, and talk of spending $300,000 to abolish it. Vast districts in Iowa are nothing but swamp. Too bad, even if other districts, dry and tidy, so greatly out-match the swamps that the mud hardly counts, proportionally. The Iowans read "Good Housekeeping," and mud gets on their nerve.

Maybe you don't know about Iowa mud. It is all right in its place, the Clerk thinks, but somehow it can't be counted on to stay there. Not that the Iowans track it around; they are too neat in their habits, yet when cyclones come bouncing across Iowa, as happens now and then, the mud travels.

You can't think how bent on mud a cyclone is. It will go miles out of its way to find a swamp and dirty up Iowa. There was the case of the Methodist Church at Simmonsville, for instance. With commendable taste and industry the Simmonsville Methodists painted their church white. Before it had time to dry along pranced
a cyclone, with one eye on the church and the other on a neighboring swamp. Zip! Swash! Instantly all the mud hopped out of the swamp and bestowed a chocolate frosting on the house of worship. The congregation, being Methodists and Iowans, could say nothing fit for publication.

The Jews and Temperance.
[New York Tribune:] The Rev. Dr. Samuel Marks of San Antonio, Tex., declares that the reason why the Jews are not active in temperance work is because they know less about intemperance than their neighbors. In the course of his remarks he says: "The Jewish ideal of temperance is that the best safeguard against intemperance is a family training in self-restraint, not in the form of an ascetic abstinence from all alcoholic stimulants but in their temperate and moderate use, and I appeal to the universal experience of the Jews in proof of the efficiency of this regimen. Drunkenness is almost unknown among the people of Israel. Indeed, a drunkard among Jews is as rare as a white swallow. It is regarded by them as an indecency and with general abhorrence. Upon this platform the Jew has been trained in all ages. Hence such a spectacle as a drunken Jew is extremely rare. If he cannot be reclaimed he is denounced as an outcast."

Sheep As Burden Bearers.
[Westminster Gazette:] In the northern part of India sheep are put to a use unthought of in European countries. The mountain paths among the foothills of the Himalayas are so precipitous that the sheep, more sure footed than larger beasts, are preferred as burden carriers. The load for each sheep is from sixteen pounds to twenty pounds. The sheep are driven from village to village with the wool still growing and in each town the farmer shears as much wool as he can sell there and loads the sheep with the grain he receives in exchange. After his flock has been sheared he turns it homeward, each sheep having on its back a small bag containing the purchased grain.

A HOUSEKEEPER'S OUNCE.
Housekeepers are often confused by the mingling of weights and measures in a recipe; therefore, an accurate schedule is a good thing to have around. The following measures of the most generally used articles will be found correct:
An ounce of granulated sugar equals two level tablespoons.
An ounce of flour, four level tablespoons.
An ounce of butter, two level tablespoons.
An ounce of ground coffee, five level tablespoons.
An ounce of corn starch, three level tablespoons.
An ounce of thyme, eight level tablespoons.
An ounce of grated chocolate, three level tablespoons.
An ounce of pepper, four level tablespoons.
An ounce of salt, two level tablespoons.
An ounce of mustard, four level tablespoons.
An ounce of cloves, four level tablespoons.
An ounce of cinnamon, four and a half level tablespoons.
An ounce of mace, four level tablespoons.
An ounce of curry, four level tablespoons.
An ounce of chopped nut, a fourth of a cupful.
An ounce of olive oil, two tablespoons.

NO PARTIES IS HIGH ART NOW-A-DAYS.

fact is, the giving of a party is a delicate matter and one of the where fools are all too wont to tread. A hostess is born, not made, and few indeed are they that acquire the art by training.

Nevertheless here are a few sound rules for would-be party givers. First of all, don't clean house. It makes the entire family tired and before the eventual day, and the house looks more homelike.

Secondly, try to invite the bores, the anti-bores altogether, don't mix them.

Thirdly, never let any special guest wait for the fun to begin. This is the most general and most of all party mistakes. It has the unfortunate effect of giving the guests a feeling of being made to wait.

Fourthly, the most important thing is to make the guests feel "sympathetic." Cold introductions won't do this. If you can't own personality is not easily ignited she must resort to flattery. One good plan is to set all the guests on fire on the spot. This is very little danger, but the element is intense and it gives the guests a chance to exhibit their splendid sense, and the ladies an opportunity to clutch the most interesting things they can find.

Fifthly, the ball has not begun to roll until after this, you are up against a pretty dismal proposition. In one early hopeless case, I remember a charming hostess demurely asking a gentleman to kiss the lady next to him. It was a very select party, and included two reverends and five churchwardens. I am happy to relate that no one obeyed at the time, although one or two conspicuous guests felt called upon to do so. Well, what I was going to say, that the demure request had most delightfully electrical effect in the heavy atmosphere and a very breeze sprang up right away.

THE GIVES FREEDOM.

New Skirt Reveals Ankle and Legs

Many of Fashion Step Without Hobbles. NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Once again fashion is to be foot loose. Charles F. Johnson, a New York fashion expert, returned from Paris with the news that no longer is she shackled by the hobble, but instead to step forth putting her foot through a convenient slash in the front of her skirt.

The new slash, however, is designed, of course, to give more freedom of movement in walking, but incidentally affords a considerable glimpse of the leg. The slash is a modest one, being in most instances only about nine inches from the bottom of the gown, and sections are rounded, presenting the effect of a cutaway jacket in street skirts. The slash usually is a termination of a pleat, fold or row of buttons extending directly down the center of the skirt from the waist line.

President Taft and the Tariff.

Philadelphia Press: President Taft in his frank, direct and explicit speech in Massachusetts, opening his heart to the people, offers convincing proof that the policy of both Democrats and "insurgents" in the session of Congress just adjourned, used the tariff "for politics only," expresses clearly the purpose and policy of a permanent party majority in the senate, and of the plain, costly in the tariff in the Senate to use the tariff, a permanent national issue, affecting all the interests of the nation, solely for political ends.

From the hour that Canadian reciprocity was enacted by a non-partisan vote, to the credit of both parties, the partisan and factious tariff hawks began, discreditable to all who supported them. No tariff and no reciprocity can be dealt with in this fashion without disgraceful errors and misstatements. Errors as the President himself, in calculating the national surplus, whose very arithmetic would disgrace a schoolboy and sheer blunders in drawing rates and duties which would destroy industries at home and abroad. These errors, these evils to President has prevented by his veto. These vetoes are approved by those who understand what he has prevented and the political tricks of a tariff for politics only which he has frustrated and all the country will understand both by the time the President has completed his trip to the West.

Swiss English.

[London Chronicle:] Swiss English always seems designed to round off the scenery with the touch of humor. For years the best in the writer's collection has been an inscription by a path leading to a waterfall near Meiringen, which explained that a fall was necessary for "the foundation and entertaining" of that path. Until last month, however, there was nothing quite equal to the Strasburg Cathedral notice: "Express interdiction to circulate during divine service. Beadle have to preserve order. Zui Switzerland." At least tied with Germany now in the collection. In a certain Oberland valley, too unspoiled to be given away by name, there is a series of gates which bear a short request in Oberland German to the wayfarer to close them. And twice it is translated into English. "Shut up!"

Saved a Difficult Situation.

[Glasgow Herald:] "Not long ago," writes a correspondent from an Australian township, "the seal of a lady out here who was collecting for some pious object ate up so much of her race prejudice that she invaded the dwelling of wealthy Chinamen. "Being received in the drawing-room by a lady who was unmistakably English, she stammered out that it was Mrs. Ah Sin she wanted to see. "I am Mrs. Ah Sin," said the lady. The visitor blushed furiously and studied the matting—there was no carpet. Then a bright and reassuring recollection came to her. She looked up, extended a friendly hand and said meaningly: "Oh! Ho! d'ye do! I—I had a sister who married a Scotsman."

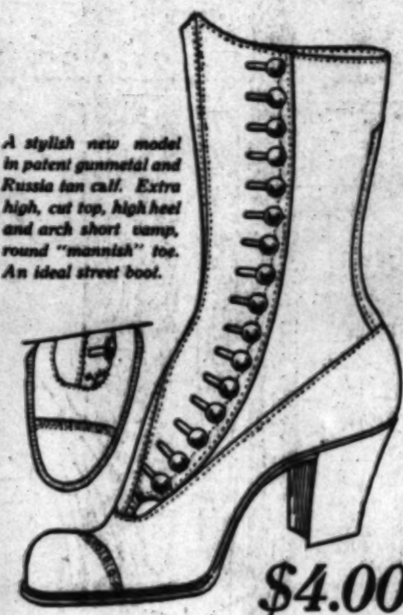

A Clinging Question.

[The Green Bag:] A lawyer down in Cherokee County, Kansas, of Irish extraction, got off a pretty good thing unwittingly before a jury. A man who had lost one arm in a threshing machine was being tried on a little misdemeanor. His attorney, in order to manufacture sentiment, thought he would play him for an old soldier. When he got before the jury he said, "And would ye convict, on such a charge, this old soldier who carries his right arm in an empty sleeve?" This immediately amused everybody, and the more they thought of it the funnier it sounded.

Baker Footwear Attains Full Expression in Typifying Highest Value Standards at the Lowest Possible Selling Prices

A stylish new model in patent gunmetal and Russia tan calf. Extra high cut, high heel and arch short vamp. An ideal street boot.

One of the best values ever shown by any shoe house. In patent and gunmetal; regular height tops of kid or cravette, high heel and arch, short vamp and high swing toe.

COMMERCIAL PROGRESS REQUIRES RECORD-BREAKERS. The established store may not rest on its laurels. To do the great thing that one has done before is to stand still. There is always a new man to hurl the discus farther or sail the aeroplane higher—unless the record-holder himself continuously sets a better mark. In planning this season's business we set our figures of accomplishment above all presentations of the past. It took years to build the Baker reputation—this season's offerings will fully sustain it.

NEWNESS IS THE KEYNOTE of our display at the present time—and Originality characterizes the vast number of pleasing new Boot models we are showing. The best of American-made footwear is liberally represented—a showing not even approached by any other store on the Pacific Coast—at moderate prices. All in all, it is a showing of new style ideas and latest novelties quite in keeping with this great establishment, possessing, as it does, buying connections and facilities which can be accredited to no other shoe store hereabouts.

OF PARTICULAR INTEREST JUST NOW are the new high cut "mannish" toe boots for women, in patent colt, gunmetal, suede and Russia tan calf, for street wear; the silk, satin and velvet boots and the colonial pumps in patent gunmetal and satin, for dress and semi-dress. For men, button boots in patent, gunmetal and tan calf; the toes are high and round, medium military heel. For children, high-cut boots of patent and gunmetal vamps with tops of kid, cloth and velvet, will be most popular. Boys' shoes will follow closely the men's in both styles and material.

WE EXTEND A CORDIAL INVITATION TO ALL to visit our stores—the Greatest Shoe Stores on the Pacific Coast—and inspect the multitude of charming new Fall models in footwear now on view; to make the Baker stores your shopping center for every footwear need. The character of the merchandise, the authenticity of the styles and the extremely moderate prices will repay the visit.

A Baker creation, the Russian boot, in patent, kid, gunmetal, brown and black suede, black satin and Russia tan calf. This sleek shoe gives you more than the best of the best. It is fully appreciated in beauty.

We're the cheapest line of $2.50 and $3 shoes on the coast. Patent and gunmetal vamps with tops of calf kid, silk, velvet and other active and attractive shapes.

Advertising That Paid.

[Tit Bits:] A provincial journalist who sought experiences recently made a point of answering some of the curious advertisements which appear in newspapers. He commenced by sending a shilling for a cure for drunkenness. It was to "take the pledge and keep it." He was sent a shilling to find out how to raise turnips successfully. He found out: "Just take hold of the tops and pull."

The next advertisement he answered read: "How to double your money in six months."

He was told to convert his money into banknotes, fold them, and thus double the money.

GIVES FREEDOM.
New Skirt Reveals Ankle and Legs
Ready of Fashion Step Without Lobbing.
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Once again
man is to be foot loose. Charles Kaman, a New York fashion expert, returned from Paris with the news that no longer is she to be shackled by the hobble, but instead to step forth putting her foot in a convenient slash in the front of her skirt.
The new slash, however, is designed,
course, to give more freedom of movement in walking, but incidentally affords a considerable glimpse of leg. The slash is a modest one, being in most instances only about nine inches from the bottom of the gown.
The slash is a rounded, presenting the effect of a cutaway jacket in street skirts. The slash usually is termination of a pleat, fold or row of buttons extending directly down the front of the skirt from the waist line.

President Taft and the Tariff.
[Philadelphia Press:] President Taft in his frank, direct and explicit speech in Massachusetts, opening his heart to the people, offers convincing proof that the policy of both Democrats and "insurgents" in the session Congress just adjourned, used the word "politics only," expresses sincerely the purpose and policy of a permanent party majority in the house and of the passing coalition majority in the Senate to use the tariff, great national issue, affecting all the interests of the nation, solely for political ends.
From the hour that Canadian reciprocity was enacted by a non-partisan act, as the credit of both parties in some partisan and factious tariff maneuvers began, discreditable to all not supported them. No tariff and no reciprocity can be dealt with in this shon without disgraceful errors and unders. Errors, as the President showed, in calculating the national debts, whose very arithmetic would improve a schoolboy and sheer blundery in drawing rates and duties which could destroy industries at home and damage trade abroad. These evils the President has prevented by his speech. These vetoes are approved by all who understand what he has presented and the political tricks of a tariff for politics only which he has frustrated and all the country will understand both by the time the President has completed his trip to the West.

EVOLUTION IN ENGLAND CONCERNS HELLO GIRLS.

John Bull Turns Socialist in Earnest by Taking Over Telephone Service—Industrial Unrest Inclines Public Opinion to State Ownership—After the Telephone Railways, Say the Reformers.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Hello! Hello! are you there? Here is John Bull, the telephone socialist, and he is taking over the telephone service from the private management and means of the country. It is on more modern lines so as to handle the thousands who are "on the phone" in the most efficient manner.

Recent strikes have helped to change more acceptable. Roseberry and his type have been warnings that the socialists of modern legislation meant to do all things. But this telephone transfer bill passed through parliament as a non-contentious measure, the subsequent disturbances about convinced the average man the state must take over the telephone. This is John Bull drifting into state control of public service.

For some years there have been two telephone systems in England, the one working alongside the National Telephone Company on an exchange basis, and the other, the state taking over of the company's system. From New Year's Day next the transfer will be complete; the government will take over the telephone service, and the National Telephone Company will be a state enterprise.

Long distance telephoning has been so chaotic as to be reduced to a state of anarchy, and the government has decided to take over the telephone service. For years it has been easier to get a telephone from New York to Chicago than from London to Southampton, and the government plan is to alter this.

HAILED BY FADISTS.

"Reformers" hail this start in state ownership with glee and declare it the first step towards the emancipation of the telephone. The financial position of the telephone is not so good as it used to be, and the government is taking over the telephone service to save the country the loss of $2,500,000 every year.

The government telegraphologists hesitate also, because they are following the example of the telephone. The telephone is a business, and the government is taking over the telephone service to save the country the loss of $2,500,000 every year.

something which America can produce in greater quantities and more unflinchingly than any other place in the world. There was much interest in the discovery on the Cotton Exchange when Mr. Baldwin took the samples over to be tested. BRIDGE PURSES.

A small item of fashion now very popular is the tinsel passementerie bridge purse, which is easy to make, and effective in appearance. The purse consists merely of three-quarters of a yard of some attractive insertion (not edging) three to four inches wide, the same of satin or moire ribbon, and one yard of narrow tinsel cord. Sew the ribbon and passementerie together, and point one end; then fold up to form the bag, leaving two inches to form the flap, sewing all around, and then adding the cord, leaving a sufficient loop to pass over the hand. A fancy button, or one of the fasteners used by tailors for skirts, completes the whole. Short lengths can be effectively used in this way, and you have the daintiest of little bags. They can be varied in many ways, and used for other purposes than bridge. Another style of bag, used for odds and ends of work, is made of the pretty squares sold for cushion covers and small tablecloths. Sew on twelve bone rings at equal distances, one being in the middle of each corner. Run a tolerably wide soft ribbon all around, and tie in a bow. The corners hang down outside.

Mr. W. S. Gunalus, a farmer living near Fleming, Pa., says he has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for fourteen years, and that he has found it to be an excellent remedy, and takes pleasure in recommending it. For sale by all dealers.—(Ad)

Battle Stories of The Civil War

War, Day by Day, Fifty Years Ago.

CXLI.

September 20, 1861—Col. James A. Mulligan, After Hard Fighting for Three Days Against Great Odds, Surrendered His Command at Lexington, Mo.—A Notably Stubborn Defense.

THEY YEARS ago today hundreds of defenders of Lexington, Mo., notable in the history of the war of the Civil War, were fighting for the stubborn defense of a place which was defended to the end by the brave James A. Mulligan and his men. The place was a small town, but it was a very important one, and the Missouri troops under Gen. Price were determined to take it.

On the morning of September 13 the Confederates began to move on the Union works. Col. Mulligan believed their strength to be 15,000 men. It could not have been less than 15,000, although it was more an armed mob than an army.

They came at one dark moving mass. Col. Mulligan shortly afterward told a lecture audience, "their guns beaming in the sun, their banners waving, and their drums beating—everywhere, as far as we could see, were men, men, men, approaching grandly."

Outside his lines and between them and the edge of the bluff Col. Mulligan had established a hospital in a private house. Believing that they were fired on from this house, the Confederates took it, without opposition, making the chaplain and surgeon prisoners. The wounded were not molested, but the house was filled with Confederate sharpshooters, who poured a heavy fire into the Union intrenchments.

Retaking the Hospital. It was necessary now for the Union men to storm the hospital. The Montgomery guards, a company of Col. Mulligan's regiment, was ordered to this duty. Without flinching they started at double-quick across an open space of eighty yards, facing a severe fire.

Believing that the enemy had violated the rules of war by taking the place, these hot-headed Irish volunteers rushed like furies upon the Confederates they found in the house and beat them down, giving no quarter. One of the Confederates was saved by a kind-hearted Illinois cavalryman, who lay wounded on a bed, and allowed the southern soldier to crawl under his blanket.

The one surgeon being a prisoner, Col. Mulligan ordered Capt. David F. Moriarty, who had been a physician in civil life, to care for the wounded. With his only instrument a razor, and with scarcely any water, he labored steadily amid sickening scenes until, in less than two hours, the hospital was stormed in turn by the Confederates, who drove its defenders out and thereafter occupied it. Nine Union dead lay in the orchard beside the house at the end of this fight.

The taking and retaking of this hospital caused bitter recriminations. Gen. Price believed himself fired on from it. Impartial testimony later told that this was not so. Yet the strategic position of the place was such as to make its occupation a military necessity to the Confederates.

words," wrote Col. Mulligan in his account of the siege, "and after several days we were over to work casting shot and steam provisions from the country round about."

No word had come from his courier sent for help. He had been captured forty miles down the river.

The Siege Begins. On the morning of September 13 the Confederates began to move on the Union works. Col. Mulligan believed their strength to be 15,000 men. It could not have been less than 15,000, although it was more an armed mob than an army.

Outside his lines and between them and the edge of the bluff Col. Mulligan had established a hospital in a private house. Believing that they were fired on from this house, the Confederates took it, without opposition, making the chaplain and surgeon prisoners. The wounded were not molested, but the house was filled with Confederate sharpshooters, who poured a heavy fire into the Union intrenchments.

Retaking the Hospital. It was necessary now for the Union men to storm the hospital. The Montgomery guards, a company of Col. Mulligan's regiment, was ordered to this duty. Without flinching they started at double-quick across an open space of eighty yards, facing a severe fire.

Believing that the enemy had violated the rules of war by taking the place, these hot-headed Irish volunteers rushed like furies upon the Confederates they found in the house and beat them down, giving no quarter. One of the Confederates was saved by a kind-hearted Illinois cavalryman, who lay wounded on a bed, and allowed the southern soldier to crawl under his blanket.

The one surgeon being a prisoner, Col. Mulligan ordered Capt. David F. Moriarty, who had been a physician in civil life, to care for the wounded. With his only instrument a razor, and with scarcely any water, he labored steadily amid sickening scenes until, in less than two hours, the hospital was stormed in turn by the Confederates, who drove its defenders out and thereafter occupied it. Nine Union dead lay in the orchard beside the house at the end of this fight.

The taking and retaking of this hospital caused bitter recriminations. Gen. Price believed himself fired on from it. Impartial testimony later told that this was not so. Yet the strategic position of the place was such as to make its occupation a military necessity to the Confederates.

With the hospital in their possession the Confederates cut off the Union defenders permanently from the river, by which reinforcements were expected to arrive, and what was more important, from their water supply.

That night the victorious Confederates seemed to have gone wild with joy. The bars in the town were open, and the scenes of jubilation there were wild.

Many of Price's men were pictured as "scarcely a hundred of all the Confederate troops were uniformed," wrote a correspondent. "Scarcely two had guns alike, no two exhibited the same trappings. Here went one fellow in a shirt of brilliant green, on his side an immense cavalry saber, in his belt two navy revolvers and a bowie knife and stang, from his shoulder a Sharps rifle."

"Right by his side was another, from whose hip dangled a light medical sword, in his hand a double-barreled shotgun, in his boot an immense scythe, on his heel the inevitable spur. Generally the soldiers were armed with shotguns or squirrel rifles, some had old flintlock pistols, a few had Minsie guns, and others Sharps or Maynard rifles, while all, to the poorest, had horses."

Gen. Price returned the treasure of the Lexington Bank. As he had difficulty in feeding his own men he paroled the Union prisoners—there were nearly 3500 in all—and ferried them across the river, to make their way east.

Col. Mulligan declined to give his parole, and to the brave prisoner and his wife—who had witnessed the fighting from the town—Gen. Price gave the use of his private carriage for the journey to St. Louis, where on October 26 Col. Mulligan was exchanged.

The losses at Lexington on the Confederate side were reported by Gen. Price as twenty-five killed and seventy-five wounded. The Union loss was reported as thirty-nine killed and 129 wounded.

Gen. John C. Fremont wired the President from St. Louis that he would at once take the field against Gen. Price.

To his message, Gen. Scott, head of the army, sent this reply: "The President is glad you are hastening to the scene of action. His words are: 'He expects you to repair the disaster at Lexington without loss of time.'"

HORSE SHOW TO BE BIG AFFAIR.

LARGE SUMS OF MONEY TO BE GIVEN FOR PRIZES.

This Will Be the Last Show to Be Held at Madison Square Gardens and They Will Turn It All on—Foreign Army Officers Will Compete.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Forty thousand dollars in cash, in addition to numerous trophies and prizes will be awarded at the last Horse Show which Madison Square Garden will house from November 15 to 25, next, according to the preliminary list issued yesterday by the Directors of the National Horse Show of America, Limited.

This small fortune will be divided among 152 classes, embracing every type of horse from the little Shetland pony to the Brobdingnagian Clydesdale. It will be the twenty-seventh annual exhibit of America's premier horse show organization, and it bids fair to excel all of its predecessors from an entry, quality, and spectacular standpoint.

While the international military contests, in which the crack riders of Europe will compete against Uncle Sam's cleverest cavalrymen, may be second to the exhibition at Olympia in point of entries, judging from the picked riders who are coming, it should equal, if not excel, the London show in execution.

Lieut. C. F. Walwyn, of the Royal Horse Artillery of England, who won the Canadian Challenge Cup presented by the Hon. Adam Beck of Toronto last year on his horse, Nut, is coming over to defend the trophy, and accompanying him on the British team will be Col. P. A. Kenna, V.C., D.S.O.; Lieut. Walter Brooke, and Lord Decies, who married Miss Vivian Gould last year. The names of other European officers who are coming will be announced later.

Thirty-six of the 152 classes are to be judged as breeding stock. There are no changes in the classification for runners and trotters from last year. There are two classes for Morgan horses, with prizes aggregating $2500 for stallions 4 years old and over and mares 4 years old and over.

UR style leadership is unquestioned. For over ten years we have always been the first to show the new, authentic footwear fashions in Los Angeles.

Not twice a year do we show the new models, but EACH WEEK new styles arrive. So close in touch are we with the originators of shoe fashions that we display them as soon as they are shown in New York City.

Particularly our models appeal to women of refinement—women who require absolute style correctness, combined with master shoemaking and perfection in fitting qualities.

You are cordially invited to inspect the new Fall and Winter 1911-1912 models now on display at our shop.

This Man Over Disease
Dr. S. A. Richmond, the World's Greatest Healer

MYSTERIOUS, WONDROUS!
His touch heals what science and skill fail to reach. Cures and cures. His cures are laid aside as of no further use. Can after case could be cited, including every known disease, cancer, tumors, rheumatism, asthma, consumption, constipation, kidney disease, nerve disorders, paralysis, locomotor ataxia—each and every one are cured by this wonderful power of Dr. S. A. Richmond, the healer who has shown in the light of Dr. Richmond's facts.

Dr. Richmond is truly a modern Nostradamus towards which the sick journey from all parts of the earth in search of health.

Whence comes his mighty power no man knows. It is a gift of God. Wonderful it appears to be, according to the testimony of hundreds who have been healed, and right here in Los Angeles. The Great Healer heals all who wish it, without money and without price. When asked, "How do you live?" the Healer replied, "By teaching the laws of life and by selling my literature, lessons and books. Do remain sick. Come today and get healed. Cut this out and remember the location."

Edna M. Kinney.

Half of them, she says, had such enemies as these on the records, made by herself or her assistants: "Little children, who were born into the world starved to death. Cannot bear the thought of going to the poorhouse. Penniless, friendless, discouraged." Most of the mothers were American, a few of them had been graduated from colleges. In thirty-nine cases liquor vice, or improvidence was the cause of a drunken mother, being the cause of their ruin. The lives of the women. Eighty-five of the men, however, were of good character. They had always supported themselves, or ill-health or accidents had cut down their earning power. When the women reached the age of sixty, mills and factories do not want him. Work, for the rest of his days, when he gets it, is only temporary. When the strong healthy men find it almost impossible to obtain employment.

TRAMP LAWYER AND LATIN TEACHERS.

The lives of a number of the old men show that restlessness and mental instability are responsible for a good many human failures. A farmer's son learned to be a harness maker. After getting religion, he preached for six years. Then he studied law and was a successful lawyer. Next, he went into politics. Finally he became a drunkard, and was a street beggar had been a banker and still another a teacher of Greek and Latin. Summed up, the studies of the Russell Sage Foundation demonstrate, if any demonstration is necessary, that right living, with economy and good management, almost invariably brings peace and independence in old age.

Persian View of Women.

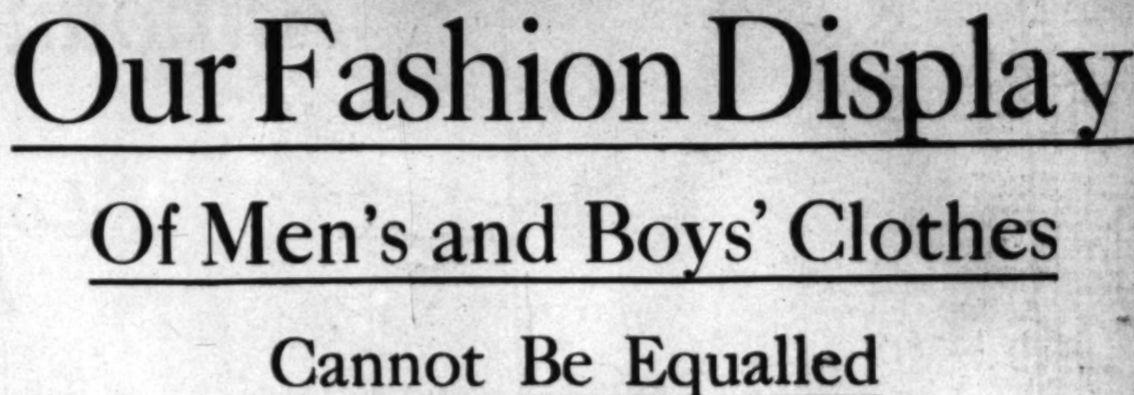

Woman has found a Mohammedan advocate in the Persian Parliament. According to the London Times's dispatches from Teheran the Majlis was discussing a resolution to carry to a clause declaring that no woman should vote, about which no difference of opinion was looked for. Then up came the deputy for Hamadan, Hany Vakil, and he, in a long speech declared that women have souls, that they should have their rights and therefore votes. He based on the clause to support 'I'm, and the Muftahid, the head of the Persian religion, by name.

That gentleman got up and stated that "never in a life of misfortune had his ears heard such an impious utterance." He declared emphatically that women have neither souls nor rights, that such a doctrine meant the downfall of Islam, and that he would have his hair stand on end to hear it spoken in Parliament. The presiding officer asked reporters to make no mention of the Hadji's remarks in the journals of the house, put the clause to a vote, and the Majlis felt relieved. It had not yet made up its mind whether the Hadji intended a blasphemous joke or whether he had lost his senses.

Result of German Census.

The most remarkable feature of the recent German census is the enormous growth of some of the cities which exhibit, besides the New York and London instances. Dusseldorf shows an increase in population in five years of 40 per cent. Hamburg, in Rhénania, 52 per cent. Wilmersdorf, 77 per cent. The increase ranges from 20 to 25 per cent in Karlsruhe, Frankfurt on Main, Mayence, Wiesbaden, and Aachen. From 10 to 15 per cent in Munich, Koenigsberg, Mannheim, Nuremberg, Bremen, Stuttgart, Leipzig, Hamburg and Berlin.

Only Berlin almost stands still. The increase since 1906 is only 1.2 per cent, or from 2,040,000 to 2,054,000 inhabitants. Even New York, for instance, has more than half a million

The Big White Store, the rendezvous of authentic modes—conservative and extreme—has gathered for this Autumn's event a collection inimitable! Those who have learned to expect much of us will find every previous exhibit far excelled. This one is more comprehensive—more elaborate—more interesting! The fashion marts of the world have yielded their best—a display of dazzling magnificence is yours to enjoy.

Royal Splendor—Vivid, Rich Colorings on Every Hand

Evening Gowns have never been more gorgeous. Cheruit, Rondeau, Carrere, Lemoine, Frances and others as famous have sent us creations that are elaborate and wonderfully distinctive. The style trend is seemingly toward a revival of the Renaissance.

Street Dresses of poplin, crepe de meteor, messaline, chiffon taffeta, and French or English serge are in scores of clever models including the open front effects and tunic designs. Party dresses are of chiffons, mulls, mousseline de soie, etc.

The Heavy Coats with their bulky, yet essentially smart lines are sure to attract a deal of notice. The reversible weaves predominate. In sharp contrast are the evening wraps that are hardly more than great diaphanous scarfs of soft silks and chiffons with touches of velvet, fur and jeweled trimmings.

Millinery More Charming Than Ever

Military and official shapes are much in evidence. Fringes, tassels and metallic novelties are highly esteemed. Shirred velvets and other soft trimmings are popular and the tendency is toward the high-piled, massed effects. Worsteds conceits are one of the newest Parisian fads in hat trimmings. Hats of velvet, plush and scratch felts are shown and the preference is for the soft shapes so easily adaptable to the individual types. Variety is greater than any season heretofore.

Authentic Accessories

In jewelry nothing exceeds the vogue of pearl. Long chains are increasingly popular. They are in designs artistic and unique. Bags must either be very large or very small. Fabrics lead and delicate colorings are meeting with extreme favor just now. Neckwear has come into its own. No costume is complete without the dainty "Juliette" side plaits and the fichu is most popular. In trimmings festoons and garnitures are an important part of every costume. The more Oriental the better, it seems. Gloves, Dame Fashion decrees, must match your street suit or gown. The three-clasp style is the one in greatest favor. Short vamps, round, knob toes and high tops are the distinguishing features of the fashionable Autumn footwear. All leathers.
